Kroger To Build Near Fairgrounds

Kroger today announced it will build a modern supermarket here on Lancaster Pike, between Hargus Creek and the Pickaway County Fairgrounds.

Tom Killeen, Kroger real estate manager, reported that the new store, which will cover approximately 14,000 square feet, will probably be completed in November.

Thus, the Kroger chain ends its long search for a new Circleville location. For several years the firm has sought to build along N. Pickaway St., just north of Hargus Creek, but was stalled by rezoning failures.

J. H. Butt, Chillicothe, will be contractor for the building.

Killeen said the new store will replace the downtown store, at 140 W. Main St., location of the grocery since 1945.

HE SAID there will be a paved parking area for about 120 automobiles. "Plans are not yet complete, but it will be the most modern store in Central Ohio," Killeen declared.

He said it will be air conditioned, have automatic door openers, a self-service meat counter and extensive frozen food facilities. The color scheme, Killeen stated, will be pastel pink and blue. It will be a brick and concrete block structure.

The land, which lies east of Lancaster Pike (Route 22) is triangular in shape and covers about 7 2-3 acres. It was owned by Andrew Thomas, Route 3. Thomas said that a Columbus realtor, Harry R. Roth, took an option on the area 30-some days ago and exercised the option last Wednesday.

Kroger will lease a portion of the land from Roth. Killeen and Thomas both indicated there will be room for two other business buildings in the area. Butt, who specializes in building for Kroger, would not say what other structures might be constructed in the area, however, there are indications that further development of the area is likely.

Memorial Day Traffic Toll Sets Record

Highway Death Toll Hits Well Above Estimate of 350

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Traffic fatalities across the nation during the extended Memorial Day holiday have broken the record toll for the same three-day holiday in 1955.

Here is the tabulation:

Traffic	370
Drownings	127
Miscellaneous	88
Total	585

Late reports were expected to boost tabulation to an even higher total. The count of dead in accidents attributed to holiday observances covered the 78-hour period from 6 p. m. (local time) Thursday to midnight Sunday.

The traffic toll exceeded the National Safety Council's pre-holiday estimate of 350.

Ned H. Dearborn, president of the council, said "disappointment over the size of the toll is all the more bitter because of the steady decline in traffic deaths for more than a year and special efforts of traffic officials to hold down the holiday toll."

IN LAST YEAR'S four-day Memorial Day period, 413 persons were killed in highway accidents, which was a record for a four-day Memorial Day holiday. The overall total of 660, including 134 drownings and 113 deaths in miscellaneous accidents, also was a record for the Memorial Day four-day period.

The low mark in traffic deaths for a three-day Memorial Day holiday period since World War II was 204 in 1948.

If Ohio's accidental death rate had continued at the rate it began, the state might have set a notorious record for the long holiday weekend this year.

That was generally agreed to. But it was also agreed that the number of deaths between 6 p. m. Thursday and midnight Sunday was too high as it was.

There were 27 accidental deaths in all. Eighteen persons died in traffic, six drowned, and three died in miscellaneous accidents.

Eighteen persons had died or received fatal injuries before midnight Memorial Day.

Reports of fatalities slackened off after that, but began to increase again Sunday. The toll never resumed the early weekend tempo, however. Whether rain Sunday through most of Ohio helped reduce the death-rate by discouraging travel is a matter of conjecture.

The heavy toll was termed by safety officials as proof that "impudence, intemperance and indifference bring death on the highways, especially on holidays."

Comedian Beggars for Crumb of Humor

NEW YORK (AP)—"A recession has hit the joke industry," mourns Henny Youngman, a capitalist among comedians who uses assembly line methods to turn out more than 500 gags in a 40-minute stint. "This is no laughing matter. 'Guys are out walking the streets looking for jokes. I haven't heard a good one in over a month. Nothing seems to be funny any more. Why today you can't even find mothers-in-law. All of them seem 20 years younger, 30 pounds lighter, have the Ivy League look and sit out there in the night clubs waiting to heckle you.'"

Before the government steps in and appoints a secretary of chorales, chuckles and yokes, with cabinet rank and vast emergency powers to marshal all jokes, Henny believes the day can be saved by combining private enterprise with spirited public charity.

"Somewhere out in the vast heartland of this country," he intones, with a missionary zeal lighting up his laugh-hungry eyes, "good jokes are lurking, just waiting to be told. The job is to find them."

"Look at all the publicity Texas got from the endless stream of Texan jokes. Remember the rich Texan who gave his son a chem-

A Prime Donna with Suspense

Gen. DeGaulle Again Shows His Keen Sense of Timing

PARIS (AP)—With the suspenseful timing of a veteran prima donna, Gen. Charles de Gaulle for 18 years has kept Frenchmen watching him.

His stage has been the battlefield, exile in England, the Champs Elysees crowded with his countrymen celebrating the end of World War II, the National Assembly and his solitary country home near Metz.

The tall, stern general has long been a master of timing and suspense. His recent news conference, when he declared, he was ready to "assume the powers of the republic," was a good example. He announced the conference long enough in advance to allow an enormous sense of expectation to build up. When he finally spoke, all France and the world listened attentively.

The 67-year-old general, born in Lille, Nov. 22, 1890, has been proposing dramatic and decisive solutions to France's problems almost since he was graduated from St. Cyr military academy. He has been alternately inspiring and vexing to his associates.

As early as 1928, when France's military leaders were planning for the kind of wars fought in the past, De Gaulle proposed motorized columns and tanks that could strike sudden blows at an enemy.

French leaders did not listen, but the Germans did. Their lightning attacks in World War II proved De Gaulle had been right.

When German forces assembled on France's border in 1939, De Gaulle urged that France keep the initiative by attacking first.

His own subsequent performance won him a battlefield promotion to brigadier general. At 50, he was the youngest general in the army.

When France collapsed, De Gaulle wasted no time in proclaiming a "Free France" to fight on from England and North Africa. "France has lost a battle," he declared, "but France has not lost the war."

He assured Frenchmen listening to his London broadcast that France would be one of the victors. "She will then regain her liberty and her greatness," he said.

With the aid of the other allies, the general built a fighting force of half a million men. Shunting rivals aside, he proclaimed that he personally represented France and would have to be dealt with as an equal among allies.

Britain and the United States supported him, but not without some annoyance.

wrote in a letter after the Allies' Casablanca conference. "The day De Gaulle arrived he thought he was Joan of Arc and the following day he insisted he was Georges Clemenceau."

De Gaulle got what he wanted; he kept France in the front rank of the world powers.

De Gaulle became provisional president of France as the war was ending and fought for a constitution that would provide strong executive leadership. When he lost, he dramatically bowed out of the political picture.

A year later he returned to politics and all eyes again turned to him. His party, the Rally of the French People, won 40 per cent of the popular vote in 1947 municipal elections. But the tide receded, and in 1953 the party died.

De Gaulle again went into seclusion.

When French military commanders in Algeria broke away from Paris control, the general needed a sure sense of timing.

De Gaulle waited patiently. Instead of losing out because of the delay, he gained ground. A false step might have cost him the prize. He did not make one.

Hospital Orderly's Trial Neats End

HAMILTON (AP)—The fate of Edward Campbell, 21-year-old hospital orderly charged with first degree murder in the death of a student nurse last January, was expected to be placed in the hands of a Butler County common pleas court jury today.

Presentation of testimony in the case was completed Thursday and the trial then was recessed for the Memorial Day weekend.

Judge P. P. Boli allowed each side an hour for closing arguments today and the case will go to the jury after he gives his instructions.

General Given Free Hand for Next 6 Months

New Premier Booked To Go to Algeria To Quell Rebel Uprising

PARIS (AP)—The National Assembly today voted 322-232 to grant Premier De Gaulle sweeping powers to govern France by decree for six months.

The measure was sent immediately to the French Senate where De Gaulle supporters hope to ram it through today and clear the way for the new premier's trip to Algeria to restore government authority over the rebellious territory.

THE VOTE WAS almost identical with the 329-224 tally by which the Assembly invested De Gaulle hardly 24 hours earlier.

The Assembly voted the tall, grim-faced wartime resistance leader into office by a 329-224 vote Sunday night after he insisted he be given a free hand to run France for the next six months.

The general made his sweeping demands in a cold, calm six-minute speech to the hushed chamber. He needed the powers, he said, to avert a "breakup and perhaps civil war" in France.

De Gaulle said he was demanding three major things:

1. Emergency powers to rule by decree for six months to clear up the current crisis. Parliament would take a vacation in the interim.

2. Authority to revise the constitution to give a stronger executive, based on the American system, rather than the parade of weak regimes which have been at the mercy of the Assembly.

3. Constitutional reform to reorganize the relation between France and her overseas territories.

Both constitutional reforms would be submitted directly to the people for approval, rather than to the Assembly first. De Gaulle did not spell out the constitutional changes he plans, saying this would be done in a bill to be submitted soon.

This is the coalition Cabinet lineup voted into office under De Gaulle:

De Gaulle—premier and defense minister; Pierre Guillaumat, non-partisan, deputy defense minister; Pierre Pflimlin, Popular Republican (MRP); Guy Mollet, Socialist; Louis Jacquinot, Independent Republican (conservative); and Felix Houphouet-Boigny, African Democratic Rally (RDA)—vice premiers.

Michel Debre, Social Republican (Gaullist), justice; Max Lejeune, Socialist, Algeria-Sahara affairs; Maurice Couve de Murville, non-partisan, foreign; Antoine Pinay, Independent Republican, finance; Paul Bacon, MRP, labor; Emile Pelletier, non-partisan, interior; Jean Bertoin, Radical Socialist, education.

U.S. Watching Red Fishing Boats in Sea

WASHINGTON (AP)—The State Department has notified the Soviet Union, in response to a Soviet complaint, that the U.S. Navy is keeping close watch on shipping in the ocean approaches to the United States.

Moscow had protested that U.S. aircraft had buzzed Soviet trawlers in international waters near the Grand Banks southeast of Nova Scotia.

State Department press officer Lincoln White said the Soviet complaint was made about mid-April and that it received a prompt answer.

Privately, informants said that the behavior of the Soviet trawler fleet along sea and air routes between the U.S. east coast and Europe is suspicious.

The vessels were said to be in waters which are not normally fished. They seem to have a large amount of electronic detection equipment such as radar. The number of vessels is constant, one arriving as another departs.

American officials have been wondering what, besides fishing, half a dozen Russian vessels may be doing about 100 miles off Canada's east coast.

Social Unrest Hits Arabia

Lavish Spending Starts To Take Its Toll

JIDDAH, Saudi Arabia (AP)—A social revolution has plunged Saudi Arabia into a deep political and financial crisis. It has an important bearing on the future of Middle East politics.

The pattern of the monarchy is already changing.

But the emerging leaders, once captivated by notions of pan-Arab nationalism, are casting speculative glances northward. The violent events in Lebanon could worsen their money troubles.

The lavish waste of money by this country's innumerable royal princes has finally caught up with the rulers of the desert kingdom. And now that the rulers are struggling, with some promise of success, to stave off financial chaos, events in Lebanon are threatening the outlet of the oil pipeline at Sidon. If that should be shut off, there would be sharp repercussions here.

Crown Prince Faisal, astute brother of King Saud, suddenly has taken a strong grip on the reins. For all practical purposes he seems to be governing Saudi Arabia.

ONCE CONSIDERED pro-Nasser and bitterly anti-American, Faisal has made a noticeable shift in his attitude toward Arab politics. Deeply involved in straightening out the financial mess here, he has climbed on the political fence.

The country obviously is going to need help, and in this immense land of blazing sand and baffling Bedouins may lie America's last big chance in the Middle East.

Either Saudi Arabia becomes a bastion of U.S. friendship in this dangerously disturbed area, or it will be caught up in violent tides of an unreasoning, self-destructing anti-Westernism fed by fear, frustration and resentment.

Intelligent American initiative still can wean this infant revolution from its appetite for Nasser's brand of violent pan-Arabism. Saudi Arabia's restless "Young Turks" are ready to listen.

Ike, Dulles Due To Study Strategy on Khrush, DeGaulle

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles scheduled a major foreign policy conference today to discuss relations with the De Gaulle government in France and map a new reply to the Soviet Union on nuclear test talks.

A White House statement Sunday night called for "intimate and friendly relations" with France under the premiership of Gen. de Gaulle. But officials said privately that everything depends now on how far De Gaulle is willing to go in Allied cooperation.

On the nuclear test issue, the President received a letter from Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev Saturday agreeing to open talks among scientific experts of the United States, the Soviet Union and other countries later this month.

Khrushchev raised several points, concerning place and membership, which required a top presidential response.

The scientific experts will try to work out mutually agreeable means for detecting any violations once an agreement to halt testing is ratified.

THERE IS NO such agreement now, although the Soviet announced earlier this year that it was stopping tests and the United States and Britain have been considering a moratorium.

The President in a letter to Khrushchev May 24 suggested that both sides send scientific experts to Geneva in three weeks to work out the detection system. He proposed

Ike Calls On Youth To Seek Justice, Peace

EMMITSBURG, Md. (AP)—President Eisenhower today called on the youth of America to wage a crusade for world peace and for justice at home and abroad.

In a commencement address at Mount St. Mary's College, the President said the basic struggle in this age is between free governments based on religious faith and despotic communism.

Eisenhower told the 120 graduates and an audience of about 3,200 that the present offers a wonderful opportunity for pioneering in such fields as racial relations, education, slum clearance and, generally, raising living standards.

And he added he was talking not only about such opportunities in this country, but in underdeveloped nations of the free world.

He said he was amazed recently in reading about a college student who complained there is no longer an opportunity for pioneering in America.

"I think," said Eisenhower, "there are far more frontiers to be explored and more crusades to be waged than ever before in our history."

Then he went on to say he would like America's youth to crusade for two things particularly—justice at home and abroad, and world peace.

Kroger To Build Near Fairgrounds

Kroger today announced it will build a modern supermarket here on Lancaster Pike, between Hargus Creek and the Pickaway County Fairgrounds.

Tom Killeen, Kroger real estate manager, reported that the new store, which will cover approximately 14,000 square feet, will probably be completed in November.

Thus, the Kroger chain ends its long search for a new Circleville location. For several years the firm has sought to build along N. Pickaway St., just north of Hargus Creek, but was stalled by rezoning failures.

J. H. Butt, Chillicothe, will be contractor for the building.

Killeen said the new store will replace the downtown store, at 140 W. Main St., location of the grocery since 1945.

HE SAID there will be a paved parking area for about 120 automobiles. "Plans are not yet complete, but it will be the most modern store in Central Ohio," Killeen declared.

He said it will be air conditioned, have automatic door openers, a self-service meat counter and extensive frozen food facilities. The color scheme, Killeen stated, will be pastel pink and blue. It will be a brick and concrete block structure.

The land, which lies east of Lancaster Pike (Route 22) is triangular in shape and covers about 7 2-3 acres. It was owned by Andrew Thomas, Route 3. Thomas said that a Columbus realtor, Harry R. Roth, took an option on the area 30-some days ago and exercised the option last Wednesday.

Kroger will lease a portion of the land from Roth. Killeen and Thomas both indicated there will be room for two other business buildings in the area. Butt, who specializes in building for Kroger, would not say what other structures might be constructed in the area, however, there are indications that further development of the area is likely.

Memorial Day Traffic Toll Sets Record

Highway Death Toll Hits Well Above Estimate of 350

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Traffic fatalities across the nation during the extended Memorial Day holiday have broken the record toll for the same three-day holiday in 1955.

Here is the tabulation:

Traffic	370
Drownings	127
Miscellaneous	88
Total	585

Late reports were expected to boost tabulation to an even higher total. The count of dead in accidents attributed to holiday observances covered the 78-hour period from 6 p. m. (local time) Thursday to midnight Sunday.

The traffic toll exceeded the National Safety Council's pre-holiday estimate of 350.

Ned H. Dearborn, president of the council, said "disappointment over the size of the toll is all the more bitter because of the steady decline in traffic deaths for more than a year and special efforts of traffic officials to hold down the holiday toll."

IN LAST YEAR'S four-day Memorial Day period, 413 persons were killed in highway accidents, which was a record for a four-day holiday. The overall total of 660, including 134 drownings and 113 deaths in miscellaneous accidents, also was a record for the Memorial Day four-day period.

The low mark in traffic deaths for a three-day Memorial Day holiday period since World War II was 204 in 1948.

That was generally agreed to. But it was also agreed that the number of deaths between 6 p. m. Thursday and midnight Sunday was too high as it was.

There were 27 accidental deaths in all. Eighteen persons died in traffic, six drowned, and three died in miscellaneous accidents. Eighteen persons had died or received fatal injuries before midnight Memorial Day.

Reports of fatalities slackened off after that, but began to increase again Sunday. The toll never resumed the early weekend tempo, however. Whether rain Sunday through most of Ohio helped reduce the death-rate by discouraging travel is a matter of conjecture.

The heavy toll was termed by safety officials as proof that "impudence, intemperance and indifference bring death on the highways, especially on holidays."

Algeria Sees Double-Cross By De Gaulle

ALGIERS, Algeria (AP)—Signs of sharp disappointment with the newly invested government of Gen. Charles de Gaulle increased in this insurgent capital today.

From the streets of Algiers to the back offices of Government House, people were talking and acting almost as if they had been double-crossed.

After 20 days of pressure applied mainly through mass street demonstrations throughout the country, the insurgents reached their goal: A Paris government headed by De Gaulle.

But, instead of the expected house cleaning in Paris, De Gaulle reached back into the roundly condemned "rule of parties" for the stalwarts of his new Cabinet.

"The same old political hacks," said one disgruntled settler. A particularly bitter pill was the cabinet post given the outgoing premier, Pierre Pflimlin. His effigy has been dragged through the streets of Algiers on a rope.

Knots of people in cafes expressed bewilderment as to why the Gaullist deputy, Jacques Soustelle, was left off the De Gaulle list. The former governor general of Algeria has given political backbone to the insurgent move since he fled Paris to come here in support of the rebellion.

A demonstration at Forum Square was set for tonight.

One Algiers resident said grimly: "Maybe we'll have to storm the government headquarters here again."

General Given Free Hand for Next 6 Months

New Premier Booked To Go to Algeria To Quell Rebel Uprising

PARIS (AP)—The National Assembly today voted 322-232 to grant Premier De Gaulle sweeping powers to govern France by decree for six months.

The measure was sent immediately to the French Senate where De Gaulle supporters hope to ram it through today and clear the way for the new premier's trip to Algeria to restore government authority over the rebellious territory.

THE VOTE WAS almost identical with the 329-224 tally by which the Assembly invested De Gaulle hardly 24 hours earlier.

The Assembly voted the tall, grim-faced wartime resistance leader into office by a 329-224 vote Sunday night after he insisted he be given a free hand to run France for the next six months.

The general made his sweeping demands in a cold, calm six-minute speech to the hushed chamber. He needed the powers, he said, to avert a "breakup and perhaps civil war" in France.

De Gaulle said he was demanding three major things:

1. Emergency powers to rule by decree for six months to clear up the current crisis. Parliament would take a vacation in the interim.

2. Authority to revise the constitution to give a stronger executive, based on the American system, rather than the parade of weak regimes which have been at the mercy of the Assembly.

3. Constitutional reform to reorganize the relation between France and her overseas territories.

Both constitutional reforms would be submitted directly to the people for approval, rather than to the Assembly first. De Gaulle did not spell out the constitutional changes he plans, saying this would be done in a bill to be submitted soon.

This is the coalition Cabinet lineup voted into office under De Gaulle:

De Gaulle—premier and defense minister; Pierre Guillaumat, non-partisan, deputy defense minister, Pierre Pflimlin, Popular Republican (MRP); Guy Mollet, Socialist; Louis Jacquinot, Independent Republican (conservative); and Felie Houphouet-Boigny, African Democratic Rally (RDA) — vice premiers.

Michel Debre, Social Republican (Gaullist), justice; Max Lejeune, Socialist, Algeria-Sahara affairs; Maurice Couve de Murville, non-partisan, foreign; Antoine Pinay, Independent Republican, finance; Paul Bacon, MRP, labor; Emile Pelletier, non-partisan, interior; Jean Bertoin, Radical Socialist, education.

U.S. Watching Red Fishing Boats in Sea

WASHINGTON (AP)—The State Department has notified the Soviet Union, in response to a Soviet complaint, that the U. S. Navy is keeping close watch on shipping in the ocean approaches to the United States.

Moscow had protested that U. S. aircraft had buzzed Soviet trawlers in international waters near the Grand Banks southeast of Nova Scotia.

State Department press officer Lincoln White said the Soviet complaint was made about mid-April and that it received a prompt answer.

Privately, informants said that the behavior of the Soviet trawler fleet along sea and air routes between the U. S. east coast and Europe is suspicious.

The vessels were said to be in waters which are not normally fished. They seem to have a large amount of electronic detection equipment such as radar. The number of vessels is constant, one arriving as another departs.

American officials have been wondering what, besides fishing, half a dozen Russian vessels may be doing about 100 miles off Canada's east coast.

Hospital Orderly's Trial Neats End

HAMILTON (AP)—The fate of Edward Campbell, 21-year-old hospital orderly charged with first degree murder in the death of a student nurse last January, was expected to be placed in the hands of a Butler County common pleas court jury today.

Presentation of testimony in the case was completed Thursday and the trial then was recessed for the Memorial Day weekend.

Judge P. P. Boli allowed each side an hour for closing arguments today and the case will go to the jury after he gives his instructions.

Farmer Is Tired Of Seeing Double

UPPER SANDUSKY (AP)—Since last August, 10 of Farmer Allen Wentz's cows have borne calves. Six of them had twins.

Why should Wentz be unhappy? Only three of the 12 twin calves lived. So he has only half as many calves as he could have expected from normal, single births.

Stock Mart Penetrates To New High

NEW YORK (AP)—Steel shares were strong as the stock market penetrated new high ground for 1958 in fairly heavy trading early this afternoon.

Expectations that steel industry operations would show the sharp rise of the year helped steel stocks make sizable gains.

Aircrafts, coppers and some rubbers also did well as industrial stocks led the way for a general advance. Rails and utilities were up modestly.

More stable political conditions in France aided market sentiment, and further help came from such items as a drop in the number of workers receiving jobless pay and a spring increase in gasoline sales.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks reached a new closing high for the year on Thursday and made further upward strides.

Gains of about two points were made by U.S. Steel, Goodyear and Douglas Aircraft.

Republic Steel and Youngstown Sheet rose well over a point apiece.

Up better than a point were International Nickel, Gulf Oil and Du Pont.

About a point to the good were Goodrich, Anaconda, Kennecott, Union Carbide and Westinghouse Electric.

Many leading rails showed little change. Illinois Central, Baltimore & Ohio and Santa Fe were fractionally higher. American Telephone also was ahead a fraction. U.S. government bonds declined.

Bible School Well Attended

Approximately 500 children enrolled this morning at one of the local churches for Daily Vacation Bible School. The teachers from the various schools remarked how well every thing went.

The largest group enrolled is the Trinity Lutheran-Presbyterian school with 275 children. The First EUB attendance was 90; First Methodist, 88 and Calvary EUB, 56.

Poor Relief Is Added to Special Call

COLUMBUS (AP)—An additional appropriation for poor relief will be included in a call for a special session of the Ohio Legislature this month, Gov. C. William O'Neill said today.

Such an appropriation will permit the state to match county poor relief expenditures on a dollar-for-dollar basis, without a deficiency, he explained.

The governor expressed the hope that the Ohio Supreme Court will decide the issue of Supplemental Unemployment Benefits (SUB) before the special session is called by June 30.

If the high court affirms lower court decisions that SUB and state jobless benefits can be paid at the same time, the governor said about 15 million dollars in SUB payments could be made to about 40,000 unemployed workers immediately.

The governor has not included SUB in business to be transacted by the legislature under his call, but said it could be considered. Only matters specified by the call can be dealt with in a special session.

The governor said he has asked finance director John Skipton and Welfare Director Margaret Ireland for estimates on the amount of additional money needed for poor relief matching.

He said poor relief costs have mounted beyond earlier expectations. The legislature appropriated $24 million for matching through

Godby Gets Ohio Pen Term

Found Guilty On Auto Theft

Claude Godby, 31, 116 Pinckney St., this morning was sentenced to the Ohio State Penitentiary on two counts by Pickaway County Common Pleas Judge William Ammer.

Judge Ammer sentenced Godby to 1-20 years at hard labor for his first offense of auto theft. For the charge of grand larceny, Godby was sentenced to 17 years at hard labor. The sentence means he must serve his 1-20 year sentence before serving his 1-17 year confinement.

Godby was found guilty several weeks ago by a Common Pleas Court jury. He was accused of stealing an automobile belonging to Donald Watson, 329 Watt St. In the Watson car were checks, in payment of bills by W. J. Weaver & Son, amounting to more than $10,000, which were never found. When apprehended by State Highway Patrolman Travis of the Chillicothe Post a total of $224.85 was found in his trouser and pants pockets. This money had been taken from a locked strong box owned by Guernsey Dairy. The strong box was found in the boot of the stolen car with its lid pried open.

Before sentence his attorney, Lou Day, Chillicothe, stated that he firmly believed that Godby was a victim of circumstances. Day said, "Godby was so intoxicated that he took what he thought was his car and started driving to Chillicothe. He was unable to continue driving due to his intoxication and pulled off the road."

DAY CONTINUED, "While stopped he was set upon by thieves who stole the checks and planted the money on my client who was too drunk to realize what was happening." (Arresting officers testified that Godby was drinking but not intoxicated.)

Godby asked for mercy because his family would suffer and his wife would lose house hold goods due to her inability to continue payments. In pronouncing sentence Judge Ammer told Godby he should have thought of his family before stealing the car. Judge Ammer stated, "I have to comply with the verdict of guilty found by the jury and, since this is your fourth offense of auto theft, I have no alternative but to sentence you to the penitentiary."

Two Injury Accidents Mar Local Record; Arrests High

Two minor injury accidents marred the local traffic picture during the long Memorial Day weekend, but at least 30 persons wound up in Circleville Municipal Court for highway law violations.

Six persons were arrested on charges of driving while under the influence of alcohol. Nine-teen others were taken to court for speeding. In all, there were more than 33 different cases in court Thursday and today.

Three persons suffered minor injuries in an accident on the Route 23 bypass Friday. Yesterday Charles W. Edler, 62, Kingston, suffered cuts on the lips and forehead when his car ran off the road on Route 56 about a mile southeast of Circleville at 7 p.m.

He was arrested for driving while under the influence of alcohol. He denied the count. Municipal Judge Sterling Lamb bound to Donald Watson, 329 Watt St. In the Watson car were checks, in payment of bills by W. J. Weaver & Son, amounting to more than $10,000, which were never found.

REUTHER failed in last-hour attempts to win concessions from Ford and Chrysler before their contracts died.

HE MADE the same maneuvers that failed at GM Thursday night. But the companies flatly rejected his moves for any kind of temporary extensions of contracts.

All stood firm on proposals to extend 1955 contracts for two years, giving auto workers built-in annual wage increases of 7 cents per hour plus cost of living increases. This would amount to 16 cents spread over two years.

After the break up at Ford, Reuther told newsmen, "We will ultimately get the companies to sit down and bargain with us the way they should. We will get a 1958 contract, whether it takes two weeks, four weeks or eight weeks. Time is on our side."

The companies didn't say how they planned to keep Reuther from stalling until model change-over time would give him a more favorable opportunity to strike. Reuther said it would be insane to strike now when the industry has 750,000 unsold 1958 model cars.

Auto Workers Lack Contract

Bargaining Deadlocked In Big Three Plants

DETROIT (AP)—The car makers and the United Auto Workers held an angry wake today over their dead contracts.

Deadlocked bargaining talks with the union were broken off at midnight at Ford and Chrysler just as they were three nights ago at General Motors. The companies and the union blamed each other for the situation.

For the first time in more than 17 years UAW members are working at the Big Three without contracts.

Half a million UAW members employed by the Big Three are under stern orders from their chief, Walter P. Reuther, not to strike nor provoke any incidents that could give the companies an excuse to shut down.

U.S. Juvenile Delinquency Is 'Dangerous'

VIENNA (AP)—"American juvenile delinquents are much more dangerous than those in Europe." Thus Prof. Hans Hoff, chief of Vienna's Psychiatric-Neurologic University Clinic, summed up his impressions of a trip to the United States to study juvenile criminals. Hoff said in a lecture:

"There is a fundamental difference between juvenile delinquency in Europe and in the U.S. 'Partially this is caused by the American way of life which prescribes more self-control and discipline than the European one. This means that if a juvenile aggressor casts off his inhibitions, watch out. He will act much more ruthlessly and elementarily. 'One example: if someone in Austria is threatened by a juvenile gangster holding a pistol, he might be able to talk him out of it. No chance for that in America; the young rowdy would pull the trigger.'"

Hoff said gangster films on television and in the movie houses are also playing a fearful role in contributing to American juvenile delinquency. He criticized the U. S. judicial system for shunning the practice of striking a sentence from a person's record after a certain time. In Europe the possibility of a clean slate promises a youngster a chance to make a fresh start.

Returning Congress Facing Need To Step Up Its Pace

WASHINGTON

Stock Mart Penetrates To New High

NEW YORK (AP)—Steel shares were strong as the stock market penetrated new high ground for 1958 in fairly heavy trading early this afternoon.

Expectations that steel industry operations would show the sharp rise of the year helped steel stocks make sizable gains.

Aircrafts, coppers and some rubbers also did well as industrial stocks led the way for a general advance. Rails and utilities were up modestly.

More stable political conditions in France aided market sentiment, and further help came from such items as a drop in the number of workers receiving jobless pay and a spring increase in gasoline sales.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks reached a new closing high for the year on Thursday and made further upward strides.

Gains of about two points were made by U.S. Steel, Goodyear and Douglas Aircraft.

Republic Steel and Youngstown Sheet rose well over a point apiece.

Up better than a point were International Nickel, Gulf Oil and Du Pont.

About a point to the good were Goodrich, Anaconda, Kennecott, Union Carbide and Westinghouse Electric.

Many leading rails showed little change, Illinois Central, Baltimore & Ohio and Santa Fe were fractionally higher. American Telephone also was ahead a fraction.

U.S. government bonds declined.

Bible School Well Attended

Approximately 500 children enrolled this morning at one of the local churches for Daily Vacation Bible School. The teachers from the various schools remarked how well everything went.

The largest group enrolled is the Trinity Lutheran-Presbyterian school with 275 children. The First EUB attendance was 90; First Methodist, 88 and Calvary EUB, 56.

Poor Relief Is Added to Special Call

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—An additional appropriation for poor relief will be included in a call for a special session of the Ohio Legislature this month, Gov. C. William O'Neill said today.

Such an appropriation will permit the state to match county poor relief expenditures on a dollar-for-dollar basis, without a deficiency, he explained.

The governor expressed the hope that the Ohio Supreme Court will decide the issue of Supplemental Unemployment Benefits (SUB) before the special session is called by June 30.

If the high court affirms lower court decisions that SUB and state jobless benefits can be paid at the same time, the governor said about 15 million dollars in SUB payments could be made to about 40,000 unemployed workers immediately.

The governor has not included SUB in business to be transacted by the legislature under his call, but said it could be considered. Only matters specified by the call can be dealt with in a special session.

The governor said he has asked finance director John Skipton and Welfare Director Margaret Ireland for estimates on the amount of additional money needed for poor relief matching.

He said poor relief costs have mounted beyond earlier expectations. The legislature appropriated $24 million for matching through the state's two-year bookkeeping period ending June 30, 1959.

Godby Gets Ohio Pen Term

Found Guilty On Auto Theft

Claude Godby, 31, 116 Pinckney St., this morning was sentenced to the Ohio State Penitentiary on two counts by Pickaway County Common Pleas Judge William Ammer.

Judge Ammer sentenced Godby to 120 years at hard labor for his first offense of auto theft. For the charge of grand larceny, Godby was sentenced to 17 years at hard labor. The sentence which means he must serve his 120-year sentence before serving his 17-year confinement.

Godby was found guilty several weeks ago by a Common Pleas Court jury. He was accused of stealing an automobile belonging to Donald Watson, 329 Watt St. In the Watson car were checks, in payment of bills by W. J. Weaver & Son, amounting to more than $10,000, which were never found.

When apprehended by State Highway Patrolman Travis of the Chillicothe Post a total of $224.85 was found in his trouser and pants pockets. This money had been taken from a locked strong box owned by Guernsey Dairy. The strong box was found in the boot of the stolen car with its lid pried open.

Before sentence his attorney, Lou Day, Chillicothe, stated that he firmly believed that Godby was a victim of circumstances. Day said, "Godby was so intoxicated that he took what he thought was his car and started driving to Chillicothe. He was unable to continue driving due to his intoxication and pulled off the road."

DAY CONTINUED, "While stopped he was set upon by thieves who stole the checks and planted the money on my client who was too drunk to realize what was happening." (Arresting officers testified that Godby was drinking but not intoxicated.)

Godby asked for mercy because his family would suffer and his wife would lose house hold goods due to her inability to continue payments.

In pronouncing sentence Judge Ammer told Godby he should have thought of his family before stealing the car. Judge Ammer stated, "I have to comply with the verdict of guilty found by the jury and, since this is your fourth offense of auto theft, I have no alternative but to sentence you to the penitentiary."

Two Injury Accidents Mar Local Record; Arrests High

Two minor injury accidents marred the local traffic picture during the long Memorial Day weekend, but at least 30 persons wound up in Circleville Municipal Court for highway law violations.

Six persons were arrested on charges of driving while under the influence of alcohol. Nine others were taken to court for speeding. In all, there were more than 33 different cases in court Thursday and today.

Three persons suffered minor injuries in an accident on the Route 23 bypass Friday. Yesterday Charles W. Edler, 62, Kingston, suffered cuts on the lips and forehead when his car ran off the road on Route 56 about a mile southeast of Circleville at 7 p. m.

He was arrested for driving while under the influence of alcohol. He denied the count. Municipal Judge Sterling Lamb bound Edler to the Pickaway County Grand Jury under $200 bond.

EARL MILLS, 47, Inez, Ky., pleaded innocent to an O M V I charge. He was bound to the Grand Jury under $500 bond.

Admitting the O M V I count were James C. Smith, 64, Route 2, Laurelville; Dorsel Arledge, 50, Route 4; Orley E. Grandstaff, 48, Route 4; and William Triplett, 30, Columbus. They were each fined $100 and costs, sentenced to three days in jail and had their drivers' licenses suspended for six months.

Smith and Triplett each were found guilty of driving without a valid operator's license. They are fined $25 and costs on that charge.

Nabbed for speeding, and fines levied against each, were: Eldon Noel Goad, 19, Detroit, $20 and costs; Wilbert Hartman Jr., 27, Elyria, $15 and costs; Jack M. Scarberry, 24, Columbus; Melvin Glenn Claycomb, 25, Columbus, $15 and costs;

Auto Workers Lack Contract

Bargaining Deadlocked In Big Three Plants

DETROIT (AP)—The car makers and the United Auto Workers held an angry wake today over their dead contracts.

Deadlocked bargaining talks with the union were broken off at midnight at Ford and Chrysler just as they were three nights ago at General Motors. The companies and the union blamed each other for the situation.

For the first time in more than 17 years UAW members are working at the Big Three without contracts.

Half a million UAW members employed by the Big Three are under stern orders from their chief, Walter P. Reuther, not to strike nor provoke any incidents that could give the companies an excuse to shut down.

Reuther failed in last-hour attempts to win concessions from Ford and Chrysler before their contracts died.

After the break-up at Ford, Reuther told newsmen, "We will ultimately get the companies to sit down and bargain with us the way they should. We will get a 1958 contract, whether it takes two weeks, four weeks or eight weeks. Time is on our side."

The companies didn't say how they planned to keep Reuther from stalling until model change-over time would give him a more favorable opportunity to strike. Reuther said it would be insane to strike now when the industry has 750,000 unsold 1958 model cars.

Returning Congress Facing Need To Step Up Its Pace

WASHINGTON (AP)—Congress starts paying the piper this week for its slow pace during the first five months of this session.

If it's to meet the early August adjournment target set by its leaders, it will have to shift into high gear as it returns from a long Memorial Day weekend.

Leaders have mapped out a five-day-a-week work schedule which rules out any extended recesses in June and July, except for the Fourth of July weekend.

This week the House faces a program that its own leaders concede may not be met. It calls for action on pay raises for federal employees, legislation to create a space agency, appropriations for the Defense Department, extension of the reciprocal trade program, and continuation of present corporate income and excise tax rates.

LITTLE TROUBLE is likely over the $38 billion defense money bill and a bill to continue for another year corporate and excise tax rates due to drop July 1.

But it may take several days to dispose of legislation to extend the Reciprocal Trade Agreements Act for five years beyond June 30. Protectionist forces in the House are expected to fight to cut down the extension period and limit the added tariff-cutting powers the legislation would give the President.

The Senate has acted on only one of the major bills on this week's House docket. That is the measure to raise the pay of federal employees.

The Senate probably will spend most of this week debating the $3.7 billion foreign aid authorization bill already passed by the House.

Another controversial issue in the Senate's lap is a bill to make Alaska the 49th state. The House passed this bill last week.

Major bills still to be considered by both branches deal with general labor law revision, foreign aid appropriations, federal scholarships, and reorganization of the Defense Department.

Court Is Severe On Drunk Charge

Fred Brungs, 45, of 216 Huston St., was arrested during the weekend on charges of being drunk and disorderly and resisting arrest. He was picked up by Sgt. S. T. Ross.

Judge Sterling Lamb fined Brungs $25 and costs, with $15 suspended, on the drunk and disorderly count. He was placed on six months probation. On the second charge Brungs was fined $25 and costs with $15 suspended. He was placed on a year's probation, to run consecutively with the other probation term.

Charles Hayes, 69, Lowery Lane, faces a long jail term on a drunk charge. He was placed on a year's probation in November 1957 on a similar count plus a $50 fine and 30 days in jail. He was arrested Friday on the same charge, a violation of his probation.

Thus the old sentence and fine are imposed and a new fine of $10 and costs was handed him.

Youthful Revolutionary Gives Up on Project

WICHITA, Kan. (AP)—Jason Smith slipped away from his Idaho home and headed for Cuba to lend a fighting hand to Fidel Castro's rebels.

He saved his school lunch money to finance the trip.

But his martial spirit surrendered on the plains of southwestern Kansas and the 16-year-old son of Idaho Atty. Gen. Graydon W. Smith will start back to his Boise home as soon as his father arrives here to provide escort.

The Bartlesville failure no doubt will slow down the drive for national pay TV. One significant fact was learned in the experiment. Subscribers didn't like buying entertainment in a monthly package. They said they would have preferred a metering arrangement under which they could choose the movies they specifically wanted to see.

This could indicate that viewers would be so picky and choosy that pay TV could not make enough money to keep alive. Or it could indicate that pay TV would be compelled to supply programs so good that the best talent would be drawn away from free television, an argument put forward by commercial television networks in their efforts to ward off new competition.

Hats, Gloves Coming Back

Some inquiries among women whose observation is sharp has confirmed a hit-or-miss survey which seemed to indicate a feminine trend back toward some pride and formality in appearance while shopping, etc.

Yes, hats are being worn. Not many would be sticklers for hats in summer, but a hat of style becoming to any certain style and size of woman makes her look better on the street than she would look without it.

But gloves are seen everywhere, hats or not hats. They do plenty for any woman who has enough style to want to wear 'em in the first place. Along with a neat dress or suit, and neat stockings, the flash of a pair of white gloves is very much O. K.

Does it merely seem that a woman wearing a hat and gloves holds her head a bit higher and walks with more grace and confidence and pleasure?

Book Illnesses in Season

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP) — If a man wants to find out how really dispensable he is, both at home and in the office, all he has to do is to come down with an out-of-season illness.

One of the arts of staying happy in this world is knowing when to fall ill and when to stay healthy.

Illness at the right time, say in the dead of winter, leads a man stature in his community. This is the season to be sick, and people more or less respect you for it. They may even be proud of you if your ailment is interesting and your struggles are dramatic.

They reward you with sympathy, attention, flowers, books and get well cards. After all, it is winter time, there isn't much else going on — and, besides, their turn may come next.

But a man who shows the bad grace to fall ill at the wrong time, say on the eve of summer, does so at his own peril. He is as lonely as a hippopotamus at the North Pole.

Here is what happens:

You might, for example, wake up with a bad sore throat. There is a change in the house. Father, the tall column, is complaining now from a horizontal viewpoint. Strength overnight has become weakness. As the head of the family you try to give your final orders.

Your ultimate benediction is never quite translated because, feeling father is at death's door, mother and child summon the doctor.

The doctor, a practical man, pulls you back from death's door very swiftly.

"Such nice weather. Infected throat," he murmurs crossly. You lie alone on your bed of pain and arise three dozen times a day to answer the phone and the door. It is the cleaner, door-to-door salesman, wrong number, the fulltime boy friend of the parttime maid.

The doctor says you should rest two days more but you dress yourself and totter into the office.

There, overcome with your own sense of quiet heroism, you are greeted:

"How did you enjoy the fair in Brussels? You look pale, you dog."

"Boy, what a night club tan! How is it in Havana?"

And the boss says: "Your vacation has done you a lot of good. It shows in your face. Where did you go?"

Moral: Never claim you feel bad when the sun shines on everybody else. Rain makes the audience.

Powell New GOP Power in NY

By George Sokolsky

It is of historical importance to note a political trend which, while currently it is limited to New York City, shows signs of developing in all the big cities of the North. It might be called the Powell Phenomenon. It deals with the political position and attitudes of Adam Clayton Powell, Jr., a Negro congressman and member of Congress.

Powell is a brilliant orator, holds degrees from three universities, is pastor of the largest Negro church in the world, is a member of the House of Representatives from Harlem and, although a registered Democrat, asserts the authority of political boss of the Negro and Puerto Rican voters of New York. It is not beyond probability that he can become the boss of both the Republican and Democratic Parties in New York County where the Negro and Puerto Rican vote could produce an absolute majority.

Powell got into difficulties with the Federal authorities when certain political and church assistants of his were charged with income tax violations, were tried and convicted. It was part of this situation that developed an income tax case involving Adam Clayton Powell, Jr., and his second wife, Hazel Scott, the pianist who lives in Paris.

Powell who had always been a Democrat, who had often supported left-wing movements in Harlem, threw his party over in 1956 and endorsed the candidacy of President Eisenhower. The cry of a deal went up throughout New York, the assumption being that Powell had made a deal with the Republican Party to swing the Harlem Negroes and Puerto Ricans from the Democratic Party to the Republican Party.

As such deals cannot be proved one way or the other, nothing came of the excitement except that it took a Federal Grand Jury in New York, 14 months to bring a true bill against Powell which seems to be overly-long for such a process. In fact, Thomas Bolan, the Assistant United States Attorney who handled the matter, resigned from government service because he has contended that the pressures put on him to drop the matter were unseemly and unethical.

After 14 months, the Grand Jury threatening to ignore the Department of Justice and seeking its own information and even employing its own counsel, an indictment was handed down. Instead of the Powell case being tried, threats were made against Bolan and also against William Buckley, Jr., editor of "The National Review," for providing the Grand Jury with information which any citizen may do.

Powell was thus able to establish among his constituency the fact that although he is a Democrat, he is an untouchable among the Republicans. He then demanded Negro solidarity behind him. This was expressed at a meeting of the Republican New York County Committee's Executive Committee in which one of the Negro Republican leaders of Harlem took the open position that if the Democrats refused to nominate Powell for Congress, the Republicans would have to do it or the Negro Republican leaders would have to leave their party. This assertion of Negro solidarity was based on the statement that if one Negro is indicted, all Negroes are indicted.

Three further evidences of Powell's power over law and government appear:

1. Although indicted on income tax evasion, Powell is not being tried. The United States Attorney, Paul Williams, has been named as a candidate for the gubernatorial nomination by the Republican New York County Chairman, Thomas Curran;

2. The Democratic Party has found it difficult to get a Negro candidate to run against Powell in Harlem although that was finally achieved;

3. The Republicans in Harlem will either nominate Powell or have no candidate against him. It is to be noted that the Republican Party in New York City is moribund with practically no following except in Queens County. The one N. Y. County district which sent a Republican to the House of Representatives is now so upset by factionalism that it is doubtful whether even that district will remain Republican. The party's organization has little standing in the city.

Within a year, a struggle is bound to develop for leadership. One of the contenders, John Roosevelt, is a novice who is said to reside outside the city. He is being promoted by Tex McCrary, a radio broadcaster and public relations counsel.

It would not be impossible for Powell, a Democrat, to take over the Republican organization, if he wins in the 1958 Congressional election.

A HE-MAN FRIEND spent his vacation on a canoe trip in the Maine wilds. Shooting a series of rapids, he expressed concern at the growing fury of the swirling water and the jagged rocks on every side. "Don't worry for an instant," the guide reassured him. "I know every rock in these rapids."

Just then the canoe smacked into one of the rocks head-on and capsized. My friend found himself floundering in the boiling current, his equipment scattered in every direction. "You see," said the guide, trying to salvage his paddle, "there's one of the damn things now."

A Broadway character was complaining the other evening. "Since I lost my last cent, half my friends no longer speak to me." He was asked, "How about the other half?"

"They," was the reply, "don't know it yet."

How Healthy Are You?

By Herman N. Bundesen, M.D. Are you healthy? I mean, are you really healthy?

Most of you think you feel fine. You have no aches or pains to speak of, and for once in your life, you haven't got the sniffles.

You're in great shape. But are you sure? About the only one who can really tell whether you actually are in tip-top condition is your doctor.

Now, while the weather is nice and you are in good spirits, is the time for that annual health audit which I have been advising each year for longer than I care to remember.

See your physician for a head-to-toe checkup. Discover how healthy you really are.

What can the doctor learn that you don't already know? There are several things:

For one, he will take your temperature. If your oral temperature is about 98.6 degrees, or the rectal temperature is 99.6 degrees, it's an indication that you at least have no fever.

He'll check your blood pressure. If it's between 100 and 150, you'll get a passing mark.

He'll check your blood sugar. It should be between 70 and 120 milligrams per 100 milliliters.

A blood count is needed, too. Your red blood cells should number 4,200,000 to 5,500,000 per cubic millimeter. The white blood cells total 5,000 to 10,000 per cubic millimeter. There should be between 200,000 and 500,000 blood platelets per cubic millimeter.

Your doctor will check your hemoglobin, or red coloring within the blood. It should total between 13 and 16 grams per 100 milliliters.

He also will determine how quickly your blood clots. You should bleed no longer than five minutes before clotting.

He will find out your basal metabolic rate. It should be between a plus 10 per cent and a minus 10 per cent.

Naturally, he will check your heart rate by counting your pulse. For men, the count should range between 60 and 80 beats per minute; for women, between 70 and 90 beats; for children, between 72 and 92 beats; for infants, between 110 and 120 beats per minute.

So you think you're healthy?

Just how much do you know about these important requirements within your own body?

The World Today

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON (AP) — At this moment the self-assured Charles de Gaulle's head is high and his stride strong. Nevertheless, he is like a man walking barefooted through a field of broken bottles.

The French air cleared momentarily when he became premier Sunday.

But what may seem to De Gaulle today to be direct and simple solutions for the ills of France may before he's through turn into tortured dilemmas both for him and for his country.

French acceptance of him, on his terms, was a desperate compromise to avoid civil war. He was rammed down the country's throat by a rebellious army. Thus he had to be taken on faith in a hurry: both as to intention and as to judgment.

Although his announced purpose is to preserve the republic — and all he's done has been to restore legality — he nevertheless has blessed the military chieftains who forced him upon France.

Yet something like this — emergency of a strongman — seemed inevitable. If not De Gaulle, eventually it would have been someone else or the army. French government — or, its parliamentary system — had become a farce and a disgrace.

The all-powerful Assembly, split into factions with each concerned about its own interests, proved incapable of running the country. So De Gaulle's first aim is to reform the government this way:

Through a constitutional change to make it more like the American system by making the executive branch stronger, the Assembly weaker, thus achieving a greater balance of power. This is one announced intention.

Another is to reach a satisfactory settlement in Algeria, where Moslem nationalists have fought the French army for years to obtain independence.

GM Aides Still Work and pain in moving the fingers. What is causing this?

tain independence. But this is what the French who live in Algeria don't want.

To get things done De Gaulle, who despises politics and political horse-trading, must deal in one way or another with French politicians. One of his first acts was to put leaders of various political parties in his Cabinet.

He almost certainly will have to make political compromises to get some of what he wants. But he is not noted for compromise. And opposition to his acceptance in the first place, while in a minority, is still intense.

Thus there is ready-made opposition to him starting out. As he goes about reforms at home, it is likely the opposition will increase and not diminish. This will be a good test of his faith in democratic practices to get things done.

There is the fear — and there has been since the beginning — that once in power he will rely less on democratic processes and more on dictatorship, although he has now indicated he despises the authoritarian role.

But his worst trouble may come from the army and the extreme right if they feel he is making too much compromise with the left or if he offers an Algerian solution contrary to their desires.

Thus he can expect from the army and the right a scrutiny as intense as the one focused on him by the left. But the effect of his solutions won't be limited to France alone.

For example: if his answer on Algeria pleases the army but infuriates the Moslem world, the West will be faced with the prospect of seeing all North Africa turn to communism or neutralism.

There is so much puzzlement about the French future under De Gaulle that the West can only guess what's next and hope for the best.

Metered Television Fails

The Bartlesville, Okla., telemovie experiment is to be suspended June 6 after being in operation since last September. This was a pioneering experiment in pay TV under which first-run movies were "piped" into homes by leased-wire television.

The Bartlesville failure no doubt will slow down the drive for national pay TV. One significant fact was learned in the experiment. Subscribers didn't like buying entertainment in a monthly package. They

This could indicate that viewers would be so picky and choosy that pay TV could not make enough money to keep alive. Or it could indicate that pay TV would be compelled to supply programs so good that the best talent would be drawn away from free television, an argument put forward by commercial television networks in their efforts to ward off new competition.

June Influence On Economy Is Under Study

Month Generally Brings Increase
In Unemployment

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP) — June will be more than just a month of roses for a lot of Americans.

As summer gets an unofficial headstart on the calendar what are the prospects for jobs, wages, cost of living? What does June hold for business in industrial output, labor relations, price adjustments, inflation outlook?

The jobs total seems sure to rise this month for two reasons: 1. A flock of graduates and students will be out looking for jobs, along with the five million already out of work. The outlook for the youngsters isn't as bright this June as it has been in the last few.

2. Industrial output and factory employment show little signs of changing much. While there could be more steel mill activity as customers seek to beat a possible price rise next month, other lines may be down a little. For example, auto production could taper off still more as dealers' stocks stay high and model changeovers come earlier than usual and take longer.

And throughout industry there may be a tendency to earlier and longer vacations as companies whittle some more on their inventories.

Another disquieting note is that unemployment which started among the production workers is spreading to some white collar employees. A few companies are laying off salaried employees and others are cutting pay checks. Some aren't replacing workers who leave.

Offsetting this is the opening up of many seasonal and outdoor jobs and indications that in spite of the slump this will be a record travel and resort season.

Another cheerful prospect this month is that the cost of living may not rise. The first of the garden truck will help the food budgets, although the costs of services may continue their steady upward crawl.

June could give us a preview of the future course of wages. A showdown in one key industry seems near. The outcome in the auto-labor negotiations has often set the pattern for many other industries.

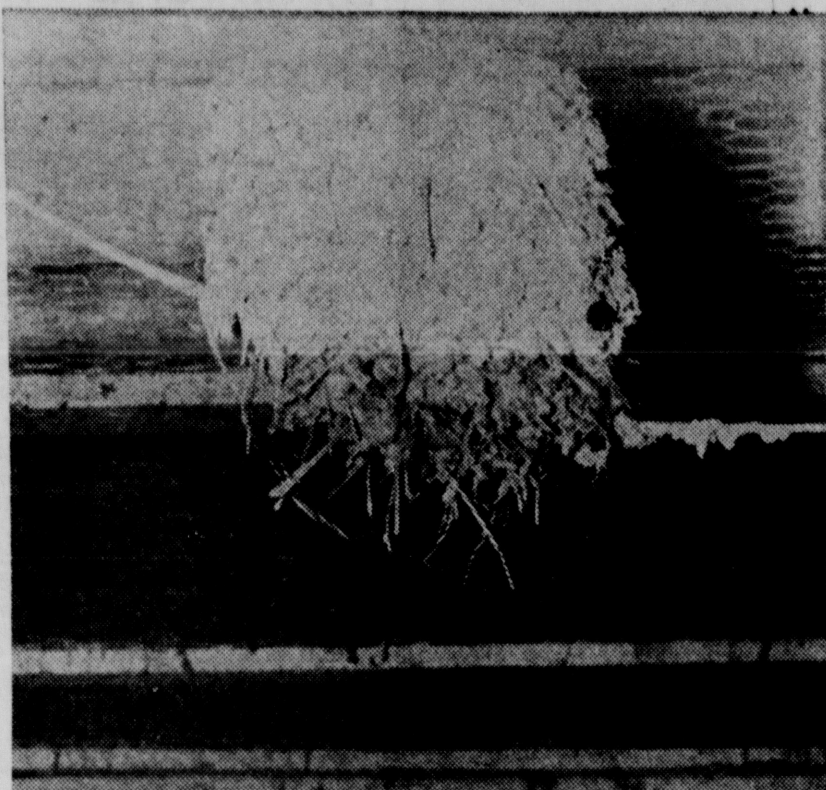

Steel wages, on the other hand, are going up automatically. And the big question steel executives will decide this month is what to do about prices: Whether to raise them, and if so at what level they're likely to stick.

June, therefore, should offer a strong clue as to whether inflation is being halted or whether it is just catching its second breath.

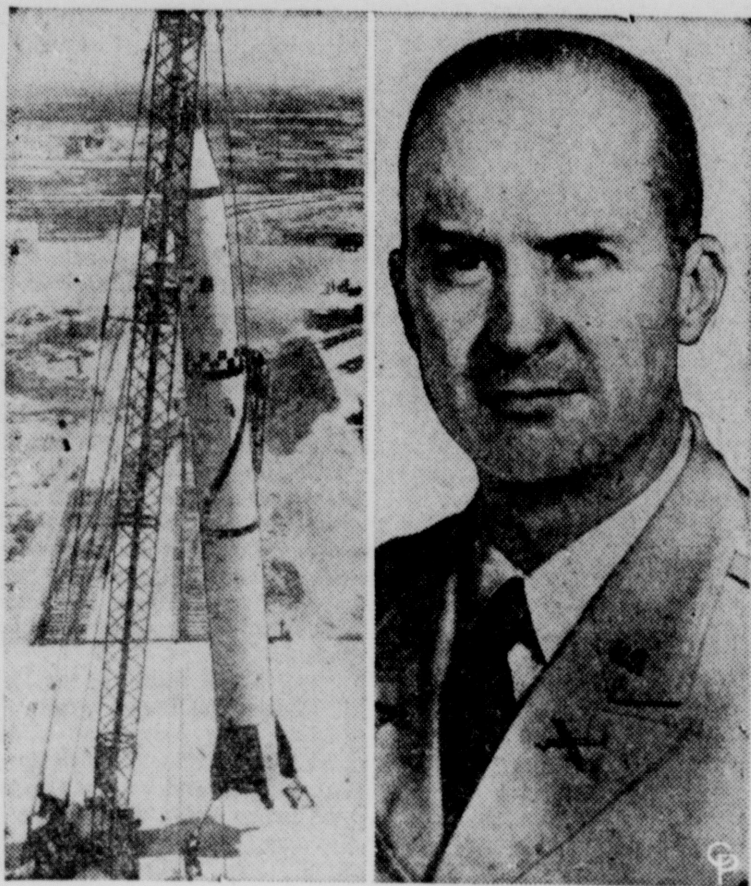

Another clue to inflation prospects comes this month as the size of the federal deficit and final congressional decision on taxes become clear. Signs now point to a larger deficit than has yet been officially estimated because tax collections are lagging more than expected. The fiscal year ending this month may show the Treasury nearly four billion dollars in the red, with a prospect of 11 billion more in the new one soon to start.

Blossoming in June will be the official statistics on the state of the economy in May. Chances are there will be few changes from the trend appearing in April: A slowdown in some sectors, such as industrial output, a mild pickup in others, such as consumer spending.

But just ahead is the usual July slump for most industries during the traditional factory vacation

SITTIN' PRETTY — Pictured above is a bird's nest built on a slim wire in a barn on the William F. Crist farm, Route 4 Circleville. The nest was built by a barn swallow, whose ability to balance is spectacular. There are no supports except the wire which the bird used for a base. The nest is so stable that last week's tornado, which ripped through the Crist farm, breaking a 500 lb. cow's leg, couldn't budge this novel home of a bird couple. (Staff Photo)

ARMY FIRES BIG MISSILE—A 1,500-mile Redstone-Jupiter intermediate ballistic missile was successfully launched by the Army's new 40th Field Artillery Missile Group at Cape Canaveral, Fla. After Winning Oscar Award, Where Did Red Buttons Go?

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—What has happened to Red Buttons A.O.—After Oscar?

"Many wonderful things," said Red. "It's not just the offers that make you feel good, though they are nice too."

"The real thrill is the change in attitude that people have toward you. I don't just mean getting ringside seats from head waiters; I always got them any way, because I knew all the head waiters."

"It's a new respect that you feel from people, especially in your own profession. You know that they believe you have worked hard to achieve some success. The big thing is not the Oscar itself, but the fact that so many people were pulling for you to be a winner."

Red was a winner for his supporting role in "Sayonara." The periods. And business will be raising the usual cry: Wait until September.

achievement has sobered the one-time madcap comic of TV.

"I feel the responsibility to the people who had faith in me," he said. "I want to improve as an actor, and I'm working hard in that direction."

When he is in New York he attends classes twice weekly with other aspiring actors.

"It's really inspiring," he said. "Sitting next to me might be an actor whose total earnings last year were $900. Another might have earned $3,500. We're all working toward a common goal—improving ourselves as actors."

What next? He said he has been reading movie scripts, but has found nothing to intrigue him yet. This summer he'll play a number of night club dates. I asked about chances he would do a TV series again, in view of his new success and the fact that another TV retreat, Uncle Miltie Berle, is returning to the home screens.

"No series next season," Red declared. "I'll just do some guest shots."

Because of his flipflop on TV, Red looks at his present success philosophically: "I realize now that your career can't stay on top all the time. Next year there will be another academy winner. I'll just continue doing the best I know how."

Kerosene Is Used For Boiling Eggs

COLUMBUS (AP) — It wasn't the eggs, it was what they were boiled in, firemen said.

There were plenty of firemen on hand to discuss the situation—the crews of two pumpers, a ladder truck, fire squad, inhalator, and a battalion chief. They all gathered Sunday because of the fellow who tried to boil the eggs, a roomer at a house near the downtown area.

He used kerosene instead of water for boiling, they said. Damage was confined to the eggs.

Beautiful Blonde Scheduled To enhance Bob Crosby Show

By CHARLES MERCER

NEW YORK (AP)—The home screen will be enhanced once a week this summer by a tall, beautiful blonde named Gretchen Wyler when the Bob Crosby Show takes over for Perry Como while he's in seasonal hibernation.

Well known to New York theater audiences as a dancer, comedienne and singer, Miss Wyler, a native of Bartlesville, Okla., is overdue a fuller acquaintance on the part of TV audiences.

She will join Crosby beginning June 14 on NBC-TV to kick away care, belt songs and generally kid around. Crosby, by the way, gave up a CBS contract to do the Saturday evening show. And Como, by the way, won't say where he's slumbering this summer.

Miss Wyler has guested around some on television, but the Bob Crosby Show is her first big break with the nationwide audience of a 13-week program.

You're going to like this girl. Ignoring (if you can) her comeliness and talent, she's a happy, forthright young lady who never worries or grows despondent.

"I suppose I shouldn't admit it," she said, "because it makes me sound idiotic or, something, but it's true that I never worry. Maybe it's because I've been steadily employed since I left Oklahoma nine years ago. But more important, I think, is the fact that I'm happily married and have no personal problems."

Her husband is Shepard Coleman, a musical arranger and conductor.

She's been dancing since she was 3. Beginning her career in the ballet corps of the St. Louis Municipal Opera in 1950, she came to New York under contract to dance on the Kate Smith TV show.

Her first audition for the legitimate theater gained her the understudy role to the leading lady in the Broadway production of "Where's Charley?" There, at the suggestion of star Ray Bolger, she discarded her family name of Wienecke in favor of Wyler.

In Cole Porter's "Silk Stockings," she was established as an outstanding song and dance comedienne. That show was followed by the role of Lela in "Damn Yankees."

Grandma To Get Her Law Degree

CINCINNATI (AP) — A 47-year-old grandmother will be among 47 graduates of the Salmon P. Chase College who will receive law degrees at commencement exercises here Thursday.

She is Mrs. Evelyn Taylor of near Trenton in Butler County.

Mrs. Taylor is the mother of three children and her oldest son, Dick, has a 2-year-old son and a 6-month-old daughter. Mrs. Taylor's husband is a supervising metallurgist at the Armco Steel Corp. plant in Middletown.

Elephant Captured In City Park Area

XENIA (AP)—It wasn't Saturday night in Central Park at Fairborn. It was Sunday morning, and police discovered an elephant nonchalantly bowling over park equipment.

They also found a man who was glad to help them—John M. Cole, the elephant's trainer. How it got loose from Hagen Brothers Circus, appearing here, was not explained, but Cole successfully retrieved it.

Lumber Office Burns

CLEVELAND (AP)—A fire swept the two-story office building of the Reserve Lumber Co. in the Cuyahoga River flats area Sunday night, causing damage estimated at $200,000.

Julius Pitrat of Gallipolis, involved the computing scale.

'Birds and Wildflowers' Program for Garden Club

"Birds and wildflowers" topic for the Commercial Point Garden Club when it met last week in the home of Mrs. Joseph Baker. Mrs. Rodney Collins served as the co-hostess.

Fourteen members answered roll call by presenting plants or seeds for exchange. Two of the club members were in the hospital, they were Mrs. Richard Snider and Mrs. Robert Skinner.

Election of officers was held for next year. The complete slate of officers of this year was voted to carry on for another year.

The program "Birds and wildflowers" was presented by Mrs. C. H. Bliss. She collected several specimens of wild flower from her own woods, "Blisswood," which she has been told, grows rare wild flowers.

She tagged each specimen and explained, then passed around.

Nixon's Tour Discussed by GOP Boosters

Members of GOP Booster club met in the home of Mrs. Wayne Stonerock, 1250 S. Pickaway St., Thursday.

The Pledge of Allegiance led by Mrs. Charles W. Winner opened the meeting followed by group singing of "America."

Miss Lucille Dumm was in charge of the program and presented "Vice President Nixon's South American Tour", for her topic for discussion, stressing why he is hated by the communists and why he will continue to be their target in the future.

In honor of Memorial Day Mrs. E. S. Minor presented a reading, "Our Heroes Sleep." Mrs. Harry Styers used "The Arrival of the Two Unknown Soldiers" for her presentation and Miss Dumm explained how the men are picked to guard the tomb of the unknown soldier and why it is never untended.

"The Battle Hymn of the Republic" concluded the program.

Lunch was served at a decorated table in keeping with the holiday. Games and contests followed with prizes being awarded to Mrs. Winner, Mrs. Stonerock and Mrs. Minor. Mrs. Styers won the door-prize.

Mrs. H. E. Valentine, 219 Walnut St. will be hostess for the June meeting.

She also told which could be transplanted to your own beds. She has transplanted several in her own garden, some she was told wouldn't grow, but she did succeed.

After the meeting was adjourned, there was a flower show to be judged. Topic "Spring Beauties" an arrangement of spring flowers in a vertical manner. First prize was awarded to Mrs. Guy Gulick, Mrs. Howard McGee, second and Mrs. Bliss, third.

The next meeting will be held in the home of Mrs. Jane Warden June 25th. Assisting hostess will be Mrs. Walter Writsel.

THE CHEMISE DRESS, gently curved to suggest the figure, was designed by Betty Carol for the Mam-selle summer collection. In light blue, it has a smartly exaggerated sailor collar in navy and white. Red and white stripes partly fill in the V neckline.

Many Ohio Colleges Forced To Hike Costs to Students

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio colleges generally are feeling the pinch of the high cost of living—just like everyone else.

Most of them report they are faced with the alternatives of raising student fees or trimming the quality of instruction.

Some of the increases are modest, some are sizable.

The need to upgrade faculty salaries is the most commonly advanced reason for student fee increases.

All six of the state-supported institutions of higher learning are increasing some student fees—tuition, incidental fees or board room.

Ohio State, largest university in the state, is increasing its basic quarterly tuition from $75 to $90 effective next fall. Tuition in most of its professional colleges is somewhat higher. Effective with the winter quarter of 1959, the university also plans a new $5 registration fee for those students entering for the first time.

Ohio University plans a series of increases. Its comprehensive registration fee will go from $115 to $135 a semester for Ohio residents and the semester board bill will advance from $216 to $234 with no change in room rentals. Total cost per 18-week semester will be $486 for Ohioans and $636 for non-residents.

Bowling Green State University plans no tuition increases, but, effective in September, will increase board and room rates $40 a year to $680 and the incidentals fee $25 to $125 a year. Its registration fee (tuition) is $75 for each of two semesters.

Miami University at Oxford also is holding its tuition to $75 a semester, but is increasing what it calls its general fee from $50 to $62.50 a semester. Another increase of $20 a semester is planned in the room and board fee.

Kent State University is increasing its annual tuition to $267, an increase of $66. Non-residents must pay $255 more.

Central State College at Wilberforce plans no change in tuition rates, but is increasing dormitory rates $30 a semester for Ohioans and $62 a semester for non-residents.

Several municipally operated universities either plan increases or already have put them into effect.

Since February, students at the University of Cincinnati have been paying a higher comprehensive fee (tuition) than they did earlier.

The increase was $25 a year. Non-residents of Cincinnati have been paying $70 more a year.

The University of Toledo, effective next September, will increase its tuition and athletic and activity fees and raise its dormitory rates. The school's tuition is based on semester credit hours on each student's schedule. There will be a $2 per credit hour increase per semester. Full-time students take 14 or 15 credit hours a semester and basic studies cost Toledo residents $8 per credit hour. Other, specialized courses come higher.

In the basic courses, rates for non-residents are nearly twice as high.

The University of Akron plans no change in its fee system. Neither does the University of Youngstown.

Among the independent and church-supported colleges, these were the reports:

Case Institute of Technology, Cleveland, tuition is going up $200 a year to $1,200.

John Carroll University, Cleveland, tuition will be increased $2.50 a credit hour to $28.

Western Reserve University, Cleveland, tuition is going up $2 a credit hour to $28.

Baldwin-Wallace University, Berea, tuition will be increased $2 a credit hour to $15.

Ashland College, up $25 a semester to $275.

Heidelberg College, up $30 a year to $630.

Mount Union College, Alliance, up $100 a year to $700.

Oberlin College, up $200 a year to $950.

College of Wooster, up $75 a year to $900.

Ohio Wesleyan University, Delaware, up $200 a year to $920.

Otterbein College, Westerville, up $70 a year to $670.

Wittenberg College, Springfield, room charges up $40 to $250 a year.

Findlay College, up $1.50 per credit hour to $13.50.

Kenyon College, Gambier, no change from the present $1,705 a year, including board and room.

Defiance College, tuition up $50 to $500 a year, board up $72 to $432 a year.

Xavier University, Cincinnati, no change in present $15 per semester fee.

Wilmington College, up $7 a semester hour to $22.

University of Dayton, no increase in present $15 fee of $15 an hour.

Denison University, Granville, no change in $900-a-year tuition and fees; $30 a year was added to room rent last February.

Muskingum College, up $100 a year on tuition to $640.

Marietta College, up $50 a semester on tuition to $330; board up $25 a year.

Helen Hayes' Son Prefers Acting Career to College

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Young James MacArthur, who quit college because he was "vegetating," is getting plenty of action with his dramatic career.

He's not so sure his mother, Helen Hayes, approved. But he quit Harvard, anyway.

"I went back last fall," said Jim, who was entering his sophomore year.

"But I just couldn't get engrossed with what I was doing. I was just vegetating."

"I dropped out after two months because I thought it was foolish to continue when I wasn't getting much out of it. I've known too many guys who have done that for four years."

"I haven't given up college entirely. I may go back some day."

It doesn't look too likely. For one thing, he got himself engaged to his school sweetheart, Joyce Bulfant. Jim said it may be "one of those long engagements," but you never can tell.

Then there is the matter of his career, which is doing nicely. He is in Hollywood to do a Studio One drama with Franchot Tone and Kim Hunter tonight.

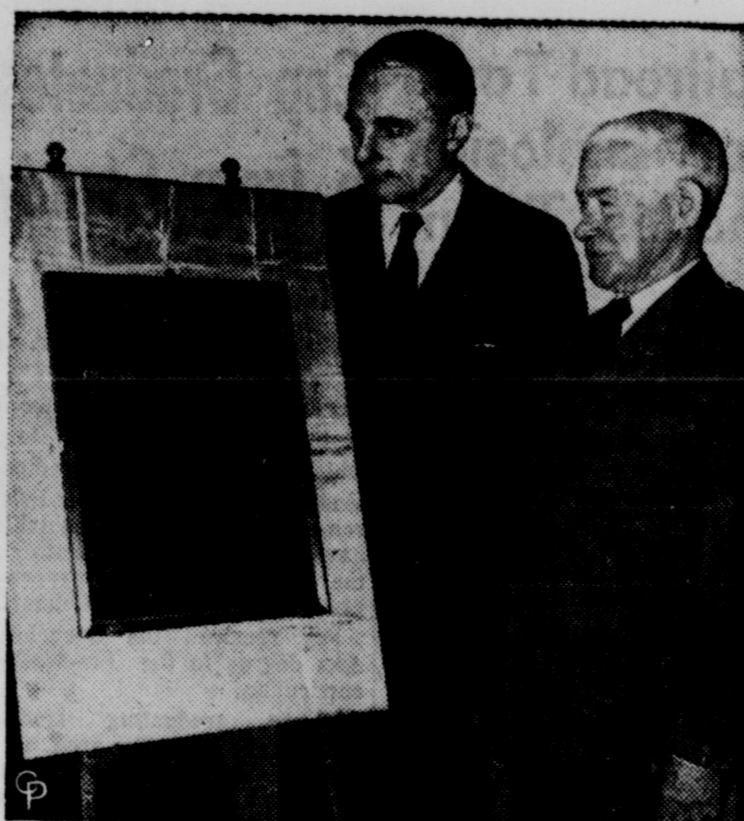

He leaves immediately for New York and flies to Europe, where he'll do a bit of touring. In July, he reports to Switzerland to star in Walt Disney's "Third Man on the Mountain." Then in the fall he has a Broadway play he would like to do.

That doesn't sound as if he'll be returning to the ivied halls.

"Some of the most educated people have never been to college," Jim reasoned. He added that his mother never went past high school although she holds 11 honorary degrees.

One of the reasons he may have left Harvard was that the university has no undergraduate drama courses.

He told of visiting the famed Actor's Studio in New York, where actors did a scene, then criticized each other. He felt the actors were unable to communicate with each other. On the other hand, he wasn't so sure they were able to understand the learned critique of the studio major domo, Lee Strasberg.

FIRST ENGLISH LANGUAGE BIBLE—Mayor Richardson Dilworth of Philadelphia reads the inscription on a bronze plaque commemorating the first English-language Bible published in North America. It was presented to the Quaker City by Dr. Daniel A. Burke (right), president of the American Bible Society. The Bible, known as "The Bible of the Revolution," was produced by Robert Aitken, a Philadelphia printer, in 1782. The special ceremony also helped to mark the observance of the 150th anniversary of the Pennsylvania Bible Society.

"Mary Haworth's Mail"

DEAR MARY HAWORTH: This is simply to say "Thank you." In one of your columns you quoted a prayer of St. Francis of Assisi, one line of which gave me a sudden flash of insight into myself: "It is in pardoning that we are pardoned."

I am not religious in a conventional sense, nor am I an atheist. But the prayer, especially that one phrase, hit me with terrific impact. It is so true, psychologically.

To forgive, provided one does so wholeheartedly, and then comes to terms as best he can with his unconscious, gives a tremendous sense of release from guilt and anxiety. I am not sure if one can "will" to do this. In my case, the experience was spontaneous; but doubtless the ground had been prepared for it, by previous reflection and soul searching.

I would be grateful if you could say something more about prayer, and how to pray; and so would many other readers, I am sure.

How, for instance, can you pray when you cannot accept any system of doctrine? When you are an agnostic, who sometimes has an almost mystical feeling of wonder; and yet can't subscribe to the teachings of any church?

DEAR F.R.: How does a child learn to speak his mother tongue, when at first the sounds of language (the words and sentences) don't convey any literal meaning to him? When they are merely sensations glancing off his consciousness?

Murder, Suicide Ruled in Logan

LOGAN (AP)—Suicide and murder have been ruled in the deaths of a Logan factory worker and his estranged wife.

The slaying victim, Mrs. Wanda Brokaw, 39, was shot by her husband, Walter, as she crossed an alley in downtown Logan Saturday. The husband, about 50, apparently waited for her to return to her supermarket clerk's job from lunch. He fired from a car.

Shortly afterward, Brokaw's car was found abandoned southwest of Logan. His body was found on a river bank near the furniture factory where he had worked for two years.

Many Ohio Colleges Forced To Hike Costs to Students

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio colleges generally are feeling the pinch of the high cost of living—just like everyone else.

Most of them report they are faced with the alternatives of raising student fees or trimming the quality of instruction.

Most of them are raising fees, an Associated Press survey shows. Some of the increases are modest, some are sizable.

The need to upgrade faculty salaries is the most commonly advanced reason for student fee increases.

All six of the state-supported institutions of higher learning are increasing some student fees—tuition, incidental fees or board room.

Ohio State, largest university in the state, is increasing its basic quarterly tuition from $75 to $90 effective next fall. Tuition in most of its professional colleges is somewhat higher. Effective with the winter quarter of 1950, the university also plans a new $5 registration fee for those students entering for the first time.

Ohio University plans a series of increases. Its comprehensive registration fee will go from $115 to $135 a semester for Ohio residents and the semester board bill will advance from $216 to $234 with no change in room rentals. Total cost per 18-week semester will be $486 for Ohioans and $636 for non-residents.

Bowling Green State University plans no tuition increases, but, effective in September, will increase board and room rates $40 a year to $680 and the incidentals fee $25 to $125 a year. Its registration fee (tuition) is $75 for each of two semesters.

Miami University at Oxford also is holding its tuition to $75 a semester, but is increasing what it calls its general fee from $50 to $62.50 a semester. Another increase of $20 a semester is planned in the room and board fee.

Kent State University is increasing its annual tuition to $267, an increase of $66. Non-residents must pay $255 more.

Central State College at Wilberforce plans no change in tuition rates, but is increasing dormitory rates $30 a semester for Ohioans and $62 a semester for non-residents.

Several municipally operated universities either plan increases or already have put them into effect.

Since February, students at the University of Cincinnati have been paying a higher comprehensive fee (tuition) than they did earlier.

The increase was $25 a year. Non-residents of Cincinnati have been paying $70 more a year.

The University of Toledo, effective next September, will increase its tuition and athletic and activity fees and raise its dormitory rates. The school's tuition is based on semester credit hours on each student's schedule. There will be a $2 per credit hour increase per semester. Full-time students take 14 or 15 credit hours a semester and basic studies cost Toledo residents $3 per credit hour. Other, specialized courses come higher. In the basic courses, rates for non-residents are nearly twice as high.

The University of Akron plans no change in its fee system. Neither does the University of Youngstown.

Helen Hayes' Son Prefers Acting Career to College

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Young James MacArthur, who quit college because he was "vegetating," is getting plenty of action with his dramatic career.

He's not so sure his mother, Helen Hayes, approved. But he quit Harvard, anyway.

"I went back last fall," said Jim, who was entering his sophomore year. "But I just couldn't get engrossed with what I was doing. I was just vegetating."

"I dropped out after two months because I thought it was foolish to continue when I wasn't getting much out of it. I've known too many guys who have done that for four years."

"I haven't given up college entirely. I may go back some day."

It doesn't look too likely. For one thing, he got himself engaged to his school sweetheart, Joyce Bulfinch. Jim said it may be "one of those long engagements," but you never can tell.

Then there is the matter of his career, which is doing nicely. He is in Hollywood to do a Studio One drama with Franchot Tone and Kim Hunter tonight.

He leaves immediately for New York and flies to Europe, where he'll do a bit of touring. In July, he reports to Switzerland to star in Walt Disney's "Third Man on the Mountain." Then in the fall he has a Broadway play he would like to do.

That doesn't sound as if he'll be returning to the ivied halls.

"Some of the most educated people have never been to college," Jim reasoned. He added that his mother never went past high school although she holds 11 honorary degrees.

One of the reasons he may have left Harvard was that the university has no undergraduate drama courses.

He told of visiting the famed Actor's Studio in New York, where actors did a scene, then criticized each other. He felt the actors were unable to communicate with each other. On the other hand, he wasn't so sure they were able to understand the learned critique of the studio major domo, Lee Strasberg.

Sub Issue Seen Providing New Ohio Explosion

Special Ohio Assembly This Month to Bring Airing of Controversy

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — An explosive situation on the issue of supplemental unemployment benefits (SUB) is building up for a special session of the legislature in June.

Gov. C. William O'Neill now says he will call the Legislature into session by June 30 regardless of whether the Ohio Supreme Court reaches a decision on two SUB tests cases by then. He previously said the call should follow a decision.

The call for action on extended state jobless compensation and other matters will open the session to the SUB issue, he admits. Fred J. Milligan, executive secretary of the Ohio Information Committee, is the latest advocate of special session action on SUB. The committee, composed largely of employers hiring a half-million workers, took a large measure of credit for the 1955 defeat of a CIO-initiated law to legalize SUB in Ohio.

Milligan expressed doubt that the Supreme Court could decide the SUB issue before its summer recess in July, if judges agree to review favorable decisions by lower courts in the test cases.

After hearing oral arguments, the court indicated it might say by next Wednesday whether it would review decisions of Mahoning County courts that jobless workers can draw SUB and state unemployment benefits at the same time.

If the high court lets the lower court decisions stand by refusing to review them, Milligan said his committee will press for legislative action against SUB.

But if the court agrees to hear the cases on their merits, he said counsel for intervening defendants will demand a full 40 days allowed by court rules to submit briefs. The committee provided counsel for the intervenors, a Columbus steel fabricating firm and two Columbus workers. One worker is in a plant with a union negotiated SUB contract and the other in a non-SUB factory.

Chief Justice Carl V. Weygandt of the high court said the next time for filing briefs could be shortened if necessary but he gave no assurance that a final decision could be expected before summer recess. The court customarily returns from recess in September. O'Neill said he had been assured the Supreme Court would dispose of the SUB issue by June 30 but Weygandt asserted the governor was mistaken. The chief justice said their conversation dealt only with whether the court would review.

Under normal review procedure, it could take 100 days for the filing of briefs and other matters. Four to six weeks more usually pass before the court hands down a final decision.

In the absence of a court decision by special session time, Republican leaders said they would resist efforts to have SUB considered by the Legislature.

They said the General Assembly rejected SUB during regular 1955 and 1957 sessions and that they saw no reason to revive the subject.

But state Democratic leaders said they would press for action on SUB, if the question was still in court, because such payments are needed to help jobless workers. Unions and other organizations take a similar stand.

SUB contracts are designed to supplement state jobless benefits so that workers covered by the agreements will draw about two-thirds of their take-home pay during unemployment.

The state jobless benefit maximum is $39 a week for 26 weeks for workers with a family.

O'Neill's proposal would extend the state benefit period to 35 weeks for jobless workers who exhaust their benefits between June 30, 1957 and April 1, 1959.

The governor has said that final court approval of SUB would fund the payment of such funds to eligible workers promptly.

Proud Red Youths Troubling Kremlin

By THOMAS P. WHITNEY
AP FOREIGN NEWS ANALYST

The Kremlin is having problems with young people who leave secondary schools but can't get admitted to higher education — and don't want to become manual laborers.

Nikita Khrushchev reports Soviet institutions of high education are currently accepting about 450,000 new students a year, only half of them for full day courses. With secondary schools graduating over one million students this means, according to Khrushchev, that about 700,000 cannot get into higher educational institutions or technical training institutions.

For comparison: government estimates indicate that slightly more than 1½ million Americans will graduate from high school this year and around 740,000 go into institutions of higher education as first-time students.

The 700,000 Soviet graduates unable to continue their education, at least for the time being, will have to seek jobs, most of them as common laborers. Few of these 700,000 will have had any intensive vocational training.

The Kremlin is trying to solve the problem of what to do with these young people by mass labor mobilizations. In addition many of the boys will be mobilized for military training.

Khrushchev recently noted that certain youths go to work unwillingly in factories and the like, considering such work insulting. The remedy which Khrushchev had proposed is drastic reorganization of secondary education so as to provide all students with vocational training the last years of the course.

There is a political angle in this. In 1956 - 1957 it became apparent that Soviet students in higher education were discontented with the communist system. The Kremlin has chosen to clamp down on them by making it much tougher to get in higher education, by sending a higher proportion of secondary school graduates to manual labor, and by recruiting higher education students in larger percentage from among persons hardened by labor in Soviet enterprises.

Doctor Cites Health Rules Important for Summertime

By DOROTHY WHIPPLE, M.D.

NEW YORK (AP)—Time was when summer was a fearful time for mothers of young babies. Death rates were high during the hot weather season. There used to be an old fear that the "second summer" in a child's life was the most dangerous of all.

The big difference between now and times past is our knowledge of bacteria and sanitation. It was bacteria in the food that caused the greatest trouble. Food spoils easily in warm weather and babies who were fed contaminated food developed diarrhea. In those old days we didn't know how to treat diarrhea and all too often the disease proved fatal to the little patients.

Nowadays there are a multitude of safe prepared baby foods, and everyone has a refrigerator so that food in the home doesn't spoil any more quickly in summer than in winter.

The first summer a baby was on the breast in the old days and the danger of the second summer was the unpasteurized milk and other unprotected food he was fed.

The chief danger to our children of today with respect to food in the summer is in the meals eaten on picnics and away from home.

Food spoils in 1958 just as it did in 1858. When you go on a picnic, be careful what you feed your children. A delicious potato salad kept warm for three or four hours can cause severe food poisoning. The same thing is true of a meatloaf.

For picnics take food in unopened cans—that's always safe. Or else take raw food that you cook over a campfire. Watch the milk you give your children. It's better to skip the milk on a picnic meal rather than give the youngsters milk that has been warm half the day. Or you can take along some cans of evaporated milk and a little chocolate syrup. The chocolate disguises the canned flavor and the children will drink the special treat with gusto.

For the baby never, never carry milk warmed, on a picnic or anywhere else. If you take a feeding with you away from home for your baby, keep it cold in a thermos and warm it up at feeding time. You wouldn't think of warming the 2 p. m. feeding at 10 a. m. if you were staying home. Don't do it away from home.

Aside from food the next most important thing to watch for summertime health is the question of chilling. When it's hot children run and play and get wet and sweaty. Then even a little breeze chills them as it dries the perspiration. Watch out that sweaters and shirts

Railroad Tank Car Explosion Shakes Town

MOUNT PULASKI, Ill. (AP)—The shattering explosion of a railroad tank car spread devastation through this town of 1,500 Sunday, leaving some 1,000 temporarily homeless.

Two railroad crewmen were killed and one was injured seriously in the blast of the car filled with a petroleum product. More than a score of persons were injured by flying glass and debris. None was reported in serious condition.

Damage was estimated by town and civil defense officials at a million dollars. Officials said a survey indicated two thirds of the town's 400 homes were damaged and not immediately habitable.

State police ordered the town evacuated after flames threatened two other tank cars filled with liquid chemicals. The cause of the blast was not immediately determined.

The tank car was on an Illinois Central Railroad freight train which was switching in the yards. National Guardsmen were ordered to prevent looting.

The explosion tore a crater about 35 feet across and 30 feet deep where the tank car had been. Chunks of steel, some weighing several tons, were hurled a quarter of a mile.

Cleveland Trade Parley To Resume

CLEVELAND (AP) — Representatives of both sides in the building trades dispute resume talks today, but the chances of an immediate agreement appear slim.

The Building Trades Employers Assn. (BTEA) and the Building Trades Council (BTC) will be represented at a meeting in City Hall (10 a. m., EDT) under the guidance of Mayor Anthony J. Celebrezze, who is serving as mediator.

Unions represented by the BTC last week rejected a proposal for a wage increase of nine cents an hour, which was suggested in an earlier meeting with the mayor. Wages under contracts which expired May 1 ranged from $3 an hour for laborers to $3.81½ for bricklayers.

Some 10,000 building mechanics have been idle since May 1, when the BTEA ordered a shutdown of go back on when they stop playing.

In the early part of the summer watch out for overdoses of sunshine. Let the children get tanned gradually. A nasty case of sunburn is no fun.

Teach your children to recognize poison ivy and to stay away from it.

Sub Issue Seen Providing New Ohio Explosion

Special Ohio Assembly This Month to Bring Airing of Controversy

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — An explosive situation on the issue of supplemental unemployment benefits (SUB) is building up for a special session of the legislature in June.

Gov. C. William O'Neill now says he will call the Legislature into session by June 30 regardless of whether the Ohio Supreme Court reaches a decision on two SUB tests cases by then. He previously said the call should follow a decision.

The call for action on extended state jobless compensation and other matters will open the session to the SUB issue, he admits.

Fred J. Milligan, executive secretary of the Ohio Information Committee, is the latest advocate of special session action on SUB. The committee, composed largely of employers hiring a half-million workers, took a large measure of credit for the 1955 defeat of a CIO-initiated law to legalize SUB in Ohio.

Milligan expressed doubt that the Supreme Court could decide the SUB issue before its summer recess in July, if judges agree to review favorable decisions by lower courts in the test cases.

After hearing oral arguments, the court indicated it might say by next Wednesday whether it would review decisions of Mahoning County courts that jobless workers can draw SUB and state unemployment benefits at the same time.

If the high court lets the lower court decisions stand by refusing to review them, Milligan said his committee will press for legislative action against SUB.

But if the court agrees to hear the cases on their merits, he said counsel for intervening defendants will demand a full 40 days allowed by court rules to submit briefs.

The committee provided counsel for the intervenors, a Columbus steel fabricating firm and two Columbus workers. One worker is in a plant with a union negotiated SUB contract and the other in a non-SUB factory.

Chief Justice Carl V. Weygant of the high court said the next time for filing briefs could be shortened if necessary but he gave no assurance that a final decision could be expected before summer recess. The court customarily returns from recess in September.

O'Neill said he had been assured the Supreme Court would dispose of the SUB issue by June 30 but Weygant asserted the governor was mistaken. The chief justice said their conversation dealt only with whether the court would review.

Under normal review procedure, it could take 100 days for the filing of briefs and other matters. Four to six weeks more usually pass before the court hands down a final decision.

In the absence of a court decision by special session time, Republican leaders said they would resist efforts to have SUB considered by the Legislature.

They said the General Assembly rejected SUB during regular 1953 and 1957 sessions and that they saw no reason to revive the subject.

But state Democratic leaders said they would press for action on SUB, if the question was still in court, because such payments are needed to help jobless workers. Unions and other organizations take a similar stand.

SUB contracts are designed to supplement state jobless benefits so that workers covered by the agreements will draw about two-thirds of their take-home pay during unemployment.

The state jobless benefit maximum is $39 a week for 26 weeks for workers with a family.

O'Neill's proposal would extend the state benefit period to 31 weeks for jobless workers who exhaust their benefits between June 30, 1957 and April 1, 1959.

The governor has said that final court approval of SUB would signal the payment of such funds to eligible workers promptly.

Proud Red Youths Troubling Kremlin

By THOMAS P. WHITNEY
AP FOREIGN NEWS ANALYST

The Kremlin is having problems with young people who leave secondary schools but can't get admitted to higher education — and don't want to become manual laborers.

Nikita Khrushchev reports Soviet institutions of high education are currently accepting about 450,000 new students a year, only half of them for full day courses. With secondary schools graduating over one million students this means, according to Khrushchev, that about 700,000 cannot get into higher educational institutions or technical training institutions.

For comparison: government estimates indicate that slightly more than 1½ million Americans will graduate from high school this year and around 740,000 go into institutions of higher education as first-time students.

The 700,000 Soviet graduates unable to continue their education, at least for the time being, will have to seek jobs, most of them as common laborers. Few of these 700,000 will have had any intensive vocational training.

The Kremlin is trying to solve the problem of what to do with these young people by mass labor mobilizations. In addition many of the boys will be mobilized for military training.

Khrushchev recently noted that certain youths go to work unwillingly in factories and the like, considering such work insulting.

The remedy which Khrushchev had proposed is drastic reorganization of secondary education so as to provide all students with vocational training the last years of the course.

There is a political angle in this. In 1956 - 1957 it became apparent that Soviet students in higher education were discontented with the communist system. The Kremlin has chosen to clamp down on them by making it much tougher to get in higher education, by sending a higher proportion of secondary school graduates to manual labor, and by recruiting higher education students in larger percentage from among persons hardened by labor in Soviet enterprises.

Doctor Cites Health Rules Important for Summertime

By DOROTHY WHIPPLE, M.D.

NEW YORK (AP)—Time was when summer was a fearful time for mothers of young babies. Death rates were high during the hot weather season. There used to be an old fear that the "second summer" in a child's life was the most dangerous of all.

The big difference between now and times past is our knowledge of bacteria and sanitation. It was bacteria in the food that caused the greatest trouble. Food spoils easily in warm weather and babies who were fed contaminated food developed diarrhea. In those old days we didn't know how to treat diarrhea and all too often the disease proved fatal to the little patients.

Nowadays there are a multitude of safe prepared baby foods, and everyone has a refrigerator so that food in the home doesn't spoil any more quickly in summer than in winter.

The first summer a baby was on the breast in the old days and the danger of the second summer was the unpasteurized milk and other unprotected food he was fed.

The chief danger to our children of today with respect to food in the summer is in the meals eaten on picnics and away from home.

Food spoils in 1958 just as it did in 1956. When you go on a picnic, be careful what you feed your children. A delicious potato salad kept warm for three or four hours can cause severe food poisoning. The same thing is true of a meatloaf.

For picnics take food in unopened cans—that's always safe. Or else take raw food that you cook over a campfire. Watch the milk you give your children. It's better to skip the milk on a picnic meal rather than give the youngsters milk that has been warm half the day. Or you can take along some cans of evaporated milk and a little chocolate syrup. The chocolate disguises the canned flavor and the children will drink the special treat with gusto.

For the baby never, never carry milk warmed, on a picnic or anywhere else. If you take a feeding with you away from home for your baby, keep it cold in a thermos and warm it up at feeding time. You wouldn't think of warming the 2 p. m. feeding at 10 a. m. if you were staying home. Don't do it away from home.

Aside from food the next most important thing to watch for summer health is the question of chilling. When it's hot children run and play and get wet and sweaty. Then even a little breeze chills them as it dries the perspiration. Watch out that sweaters and shirts

Railroad Tank Car Explosion Shakes Town

MOUNT PULASKI, Ill. (AP)—The shattering explosion of a railroad tank car spread devastation through this town of 1,500 Sunday, leaving some 1,000 temporarily homeless.

Two railroad crewmen were killed and one was injured seriously in the blast of the car filled with a petroleum product. More than a score of persons were injured by flying glass and debris. None was reported in serious condition.

Damage was estimated by town and civil defense officials at a million dollars. Officials said a survey indicated two thirds of the town's 400 homes were damaged and not immediately habitable.

State police ordered the town evacuated after flames threatened two other tank cars filled with liquid chemicals. The cause of the blast was not immediately determined.

The tank car was on an Illinois Central Railroad freight train which was switching in the yards. National Guardsmen were ordered into the central Illinois town to prevent looting.

The explosion tore a crater about 35 feet across and 30 feet deep where the tank car had been. Chunks of steel, some weighing several tons, were hurled a quarter of a mile.

Cleveland Trade Parley To Resume

CLEVELAND (AP) — Representatives of both sides in the building trades dispute resume talks today, but the chances of an immediate agreement appear slim.

The Building Trades Employers Assn. (BTEA) and the Building Trades Council (BTC) will be represented at a meeting in City Hall (10 a. m., EDT) under the guidance of Mayor Anthony J. Celebrezze, who is serving as mediator.

Unions represented by the BTC last week rejected a proposal for a wage increase of nine cents an hour, which was suggested in an earlier meeting with the mayor. Wages under contracts which expired May 1 ranged from $3 an hour for laborers to $3.81 for bricklayers.

Some 10,000 building mechanics have been idle since May 1, when the BTEA ordered a shutdown of go back on when they stop playing.

In the early part of the summer watch out for overdoes of summer shine. Let the children get tanned gradually. A nasty case of sunburn is no fun.

Teach your children to recognize poison ivy and to stay away from it.

Bob Turley Looks Like Cinch To Be All-Star Starter

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Casey Stengel can pick his starting pitcher for the July 8 All-Star game at Baltimore without any delay. Bob Turley of his New York Yankees simply is burning up the American League.

Turley boosted his season won-lost record to 8-1 Sunday by throwing a five-hitter at the Boston Red Sox for a 10-4 romp. Using his breaking stuff more than his pet fast ball, Turley struck out 10 and took over the league lead with 53 victims.

It was Turley's eighth complete game in nine starts. Three of the runs scored by Boston came when Jackie Jensen's wind-blown pop fly to short left with the bases loaded fell just inside the foul line.

Andy Carey came through with five straight hits. Two homers, a double and two singles helped him add 51 points to his average, which now measures .256.

Kansas City remained 6½ games behind the Yanks by whipping Cleveland 6-2, after scoring five unearned runs on Cal McLish in the first inning. Ray Herbert blanked the Indians with three hits in the first six innings and finished with a six-hitter. All this after Bob Bragan had blasted his Indians as "complacent and indifferent" in a pre-game lecture.

Billy Loes wound up with a $100 fine and an indefinite suspension from Baltimore Manager Paul Richards after he blew up and charged an umpire while Washington was beating the Orioles 5-2.

Top Hatters Trample Mahan Softball Nine in Twin Wins

The Circleville Top Hat registered two wins Saturday night over Mahan's Sohio Service, of Zanesville.

The first win was a 3-0 victory for pitcher Kenny Reed. The second 3-1 game was tossed by winning pitcher Paul Neff. Reed allowed five hits, walked one and struck out 10 men in the seven-inning affair.

Neff gave up six hits, walked four and struck out two batters. Top Hat scored the only runs in the game in the first inning of the first game, which was highlighted by the home-run hitting of Harold Gulick.

Bobby Glick tripled in the first inning to give the local nine its winning margin. Each team garnered five hits but Top Hat bunched them in one frame for runs.

ALL THE runs were scored in the first inning of the second as against Mahan's one. Each team smacked six hits. Top Hat's Bob Moon and Mahan's Runt Savage each poked a double.

Top Hat committed an error in the first game and Mahan one error in the second fray.

Tribe Chief's Lecture Fails To Impress

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Manager Bobby Bragan fired some rough words at his Indians Sunday, but it had little immediate effect as Cleveland dropped its third straight game to the Kansas City Athletics 6-2.

In a lengthy clubhouse lecture preceding the game, Bragan charged the team with complacency and indifference. It was his understanding, he added, that situation has existed in Cleveland for the last eight years.

In the very first inning an error by Gary Geiger at third base and a wild throw by second baseman Billy Moran paved the way for five unearned Kansas City runs.

Right-hander Cal McLish was the victim of his mates' miscues. Saturday night, the Tribe committed four errors and a costly passed ball, enabling the A's to win 5-4. The losses dropped Cleveland to fourth place.

In reading the riot act to the Tribe, the rookie American League manager cited a "lack of concentration on winning, a lack of team effort and an accumulation of little things that leads to a general attitude of complacency and indifference." He added:

"This situation has existed in Cleveland for eight years. At least, that's what coaches Red Kress and Mel Harder tell me and they ought to know."

The Tribe took a plane ride today—their longest hop of the season—to Boston, where they meet Red Sox in the opener of a three-game series Tuesday night.

Tim Tam Favored In Belmont Test

NEW YORK (AP)—Tim Tam, winner of the Kentucky Derby and Preakness, may have as many as five rivals when he goes after the Belmont Stakes Saturday.

But there's nothing in the probable field to make trainer Jimmy Jones lose any sleep over whether the Calumet Farm ace will win the final jewel in the turf's coveted triple crown.

Cavan, who staged a Silky Sullivan run from last place in winning last Saturday's Peter Pan Handicap at Belmont and his two closest pursuers, Flamingo and Nasco, definitely will oppose Tim Tam in the mile and one-half of the $100,000 added Belmont.

ST. ANDREWS, Scotland (AP)—Gene Andrews of Pacific Palisades, Calif., one-time U.S. National Public Links champion, opened his third bid for the British Amateur Golf championship today by defeating Dr. J. L. Hastings of Scotland 8 and 7 in the first round.

Andrews has reached the fifth round in each of his two previous appearances here.

Another American veteran, Jimmy McHale of Philadelphia, won his first round match from Bill Richmond of Scotland, 4 and 2.

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Virgil Akins of St. Louis and Vince Martinez of Paterson, N. J., will fight for the world welterweight title, vacated last fall by Carmen Basilio, in a 15-round match here Friday.

Although Akins, a heavy puncher, is favored many boxing fans think the clever boxer from New Jersey can pile up enough points to win. Akins, 30, has a 47-17 record for 65 fights. Martinez has a 60-5 record for 65 starts. The nation will see the scrap on NBC-TV.

Redlegs Set For Plenty Of Travel

CINCINNATI (AP)—If baseball players got paid time-and-a-half for overtime and traveling pay for the Cincinnati Redlegs would be in for plenty of it.

They didn't stop playing in a still uncompleted doubleheader in Philadelphia Sunday until 7 p. m. Then came the trip here for the playoff this afternoon of a postponed game against Pittsburgh.

Next will come a dash to Los Angeles for a game with the Dodgers out there Tuesday night.

It all adds up to four games in slightly more than 48 hours—two of them in Philadelphia, one in Cincinnati, one in Los Angeles.

The cash customer at Philadelphia Sunday got just about any kind of baseball he wanted.

The Redlegs took the opener, 2-1, in a tight pitching duel between Bob Purkey and Jack Sanford. Then came the wild nightcap.

The score was tied at 11-11 in the top of the ninth when the Pennsylvania curfew law put an end to action.

As a result, it will be mid-August before the final result of that one is known. The game will be resumed at the point at which it was suspended but the Redlegs don't go back to Philadelphia until Aug. 11.

The suspended game was wild and woolly. The Redlegs lead 5-1, 10-3 and 11-10. There were 31 hits, 4 errors as 11 pitchers saw action.

Trotters and Pacers

Berrymite, owned by Joe and Dick Asher, New Holland, captured third place in the Invitational Pace held at the Buffalo Raceway, in Hamburg, N. Y.

Winning time was 2:03 in this $5,000 purse race. Berrymite took $750 home as a result of his third place finish. The pacer is stable with Dick Buxton who also drove him in this race.

Edna H, a pacer leased by Martin and his son, to a victory. Edna H has also placed second.

Pilot Zoom, a pacer owned and trained by Martin and son, was was driven to victory by Martin and he placed fourth behind Terminal owned and trained by Martin and son.

The Lebanon Raceway is approximately 75 miles from Circleville. There is racing each evening except Sunday. The track has pari-mutuels.

The easiest route to the Raceway is to take U. S. Route 22 to Wilmington. A few miles out of Wilmington take Route 350 off Route 22 and it will take you within a mile and a half of Lebanon. Lebanon is located on Route 42 and the Raceway is inside the city limits.

Forest Short drove Jody Hanover, a trotter owned and trained by George W. Van Camp, to victory last week at the Lebanon Raceway.

Ralph Strous drove Little Carol, a pacer owned and trained by the Strous Stable, to a victory at Lebanon.

Edward (Yock) Strawser last week proved that harness racing can be dangerous when he suffered a cracked collar bone. Strawser was working out Irish Eria when the horse fell. Ed and cart were both damaged. Irish Eria, owned by George A. Fissell and trained by Jimmy Mace, was unhurt.

Another Circleville harness driver and trainer successful at Lebanon is Porter Martin. He drove

Little League Teams Announced

Roger Bennington, Kiwanis Park Program Director and Little League supervisor, today announced the rosters of the Kiwanis Little League Baseball teams which start competition in approximately two weeks at Ted Lewis Park.

There are two teams in the Pony League, eight teams in the Little League and five teams in the Mosquito league. Bennington stated he still needs seven managers for the Little League program. Anyone interested is asked to phone Leo Porebski (1116-L) or leave their name at Benny's Restaurant, corner of Court and Main Sts.

Umpires are also needed. They will be paid $2 per game and anyone interested should contact Porebski or Benny's Restaurant.

There will be a meeting Saturday for all players and managers. The Pony League participants should report at 1 p. m., Little League at 1:30 p. m. and the Mosquito League at 2 p. m. The meeting will be held at Ted Lewis Park and anyone left off the following rosters are asked to inform Bennington at the Saturday meeting.

FOLLOWING is a roster of all 15 Little League teams, their sponsors and managers:

Plenty of Ohioans Entered In National Open Qualifier

CINCINNATI (AP) — If the players, their automobiles and the daylight hold out, seven qualifiers for the National Open Golf Tournament will be determined here today.

With a bulging field of 114 players entered in the Cincinnati qualifier, tournament officials came up with the gimmick of playing the 36-hole affair on two courses.

Forenoon starters at the Maketewah Country Club were to play their afternoon round at the Clovernook Country Club. Those who played their first round at Clovernook were to wind up at Maketewah this afternoon.

And it takes an estimated 20 to 30 minutes to drive from one course to the other.

The last threesomes at each course were due to start their final rounds shortly before 2 p. m., which would leave plenty of daylight but golfers are notorious for their refusal to be hurried. And the traveling time, plus the regular lunch period could slow things considerably.

In addition, more traveling time might be needed if there are ties for the qualifying berths and the alternate positions. Any playoff was to be at Maketewah so players who finish at Clovernook who might be involved will have to dash back to Maketewah to settle the issue.

The big field had some familiar names to top-flight golf with the No. 1 contender figured to be Frank Stranahan of Toledo who always is a threat in any major tournament.

Others well known to big time golf are Pat Schwab of Dayton, Fred Wampler of Indianapolis, Toney Penna of Cincinnati and Joe Campbell of Fountain City, Tenn.

Schwab, Wampler and Penna have been battling their fellow pros for varying periods of time but Campbell cut his biggest swath as an amateur and turned pro only a few months ago.

Among the amateurs in the field were Walker Cupper Billy Campbell of Huntington, W. Va.; Jack Nicklaus of Columbus, former Ohio Open champ, and Don Essig III of Indianapolis, 1957 National Public Links Champion.

At Maketewah the field played over a course 6,657 yards long with a par of 35-37-72. At Clovernook, the yardage was 6,514 and par 36-36-72.

A field of 79 will compete in the northern Ohio qualifier at the Cleveland Country Club.

The 36-hole qualifying record of 136 set here last year by Don Fairfield of Casey, Ill., is not expected to be in danger today.

Most prominent among today's entries is Bob Toski, a touring pro who in 1954 was the nation's leading money winner. He made a practice round at the Country Club course Sunday accompanied by Mark McCormack, former Chicago amateur and now a Country Club member.

McCormack is highly rated among the 28 amateurs in today's field in Cleveland.

Throughout the nation, a record entry of 2,150 golfers are in the running. The championship is among 162 players, but 17 are exempt because of their past records and one already has qualified. So that leaves just 144 spots up for grabs.

The finals will be played in Tulsa, Okla., June 12-14. Cleveland hopes to host the affair in 1960.

Dodger Rookie Blanks Cubs

CHICAGO (AP)—Stan Williams, 21, has given the last-place Los Angeles Dodgers a lift.

Williams, a 6-4, 200-pound right-hander recalled May 15 from St. Paul, made his major league start Sunday a dazzler by blanking the Chicago Cubs 1-0 with a two-hit job.

In holding the Cubs to their lowest hit production of the season, Stan retired 16 of them in a row from the third into the eighth inning. He yielded only Al Dark's two-out single in the first and losing pitcher Dick Drott's leadoff single in the third, served two walks, fanned three batters and hit another. Not a Cub reached second base.

Boy, 12, Wins Skeet Crown In Kentucky

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — A 12-year-old Roselle, Ill., boy won the all-gauge title in the Kentucky Open Bluegrass skeet championships Sunday by smashing 250 straight clay targets.

Then he slipped away to a swimming pool while his father, whom he eliminated on the way to the title, accepted congratulations.

Bobby Shuley, a sixth-grader who has been shooting at clay birds for three years, wasn't flustered by his title. But his adult competitors, including some of the nation's top shooters, were astounded.

A tournament official compared the feat with a little leaguer pitching a no-hitter against the New York Yankees in baseball.

The boy's father, Al Shuley, a plastics manufacturer, was elated with his son's victory. "I'm the one who's excited," Shuley said. "The competition here was equivalent to the national shoot."

The proud father added his son's serious manner was a big help to his victory.

Bobby, 4 foot 8 inch 110 pounder, handled the 7 1/2 pound 12-gauge shotgun like a veteran during his grueling 1 1/2-hour match.

Sanders Captures Western Open

DETROIT (AP) — Youthful Doug Sanders had enough money today to pay doctor bills for the injuries that kept him out of tournament golf for the better part of a year.

The 24-year-old former collegiate swinger from the University of Florida collected $5,000 first-place money Sunday in the 55th Western Open Tournament.

Back on the tour less than a month after his second injury within the year, Sanders sloshed through a driving rain for a final round 68 and made his 4-under-par performance stand up for a one-stroke victory. He was 13 strokes under par for the 72 holes.

Dow Finsterwald of Athens, Ohio, finished second and collected $2,500.

Cliff Wells' 13th season as Tulane basketball coach was truly unlucky. After losing two players for disciplinary reasons and another through injuries, Wells' Green Wave finished with a 3-11 SEC record.

Roger Schneider, Walnut, To Get State Farmer Degree

Roger Schneider, Walnut High School senior, has been named to receive the Future Farmer of America State Farmer degree.

Only 2 per cent of Ohio members are eligible to receive the State Farmer Degree. To be eligible to receive the degree a member must have earned at least $500 from his supervised farming program, and be outstanding in scholarship, leadership and FFA activities. He must also have an outstanding farming program in progress.

Roger, son of Mrs. Mary Schneider, Route 3, served as president of the Walnut FFA Chapter during the past year and recently was named "Star Chapter Farmer" of the Walnut group.

The degree will be conferred on Roger Friday during ceremonies held at the Youth Center on the Ohio State Fairgrounds. The activities will start at 7:30 p.m.

County Bond Sales Total Increasing

Ohio sales of Series E and II United States Savings Bonds for the month of April exceeded $26 million. Nationwide, sales of these two bonds reached $398 million for a gain of 7 per cent over the same month a year ago.

Judge William D. Radcliff Chairman of the Pickaway County Savings Bonds Committee said, "sales of Savings Bonds in Ohio for the first four months are just about six million dollars ahead of last year. Redemptions of Savings Bonds have decreased but in areas where employment is down bonds are being redeemed and used for mortgage payments and other necessary living expenses. Ohio bond holders have a substantial reserve and are spending wisely the bonds they started saving systematically 17 years ago."

April sales in Pickaway County totaled $63,955 for an increase over the same month a year ago.

Lucas and Montgomery Counties continue to lead the industrial counties. With more than 60 Toledo companies currently conducting bond campaigns, Lucas should widen its margin considerably. Leading the state in per cent of quota attained are Hocking, Jackson, Athens, Highland and Harrison counties.

U.S. Politicos Keep Eye on Iowa Election

DES MOINES (AP)—Tax methods and school aid were the major issues as Iowans voted in a primary election today.

Republicans and Democrats were selecting their choices to run next fall for governor, eight congressional seats and other state offices. Neither of Iowa's two Republican U. S. senators has to run for reelection this year.

Heavy balloting, spurred by an unusually large slate of congressional candidates, was forecast.

Political observers watched the election to determine whether the Democrats can hold their gains of 1956, when they elected a governor for the first time in 20 years and cracked the solid GOP congressional delegation.

Democratic Gov. Herschel Loveless has no primary opposition.

The Republican governorship contest has produced most of the fireworks as the two candidates, Dr. William G. Murray, an Iowa State College professor, and Lt. Gov. William H. Nicholas have clashed over tax philosophy.

Murray, making his first try for public office, has proposed raising the sales tax from two to three per cent and using the extra money to help pay the costs of local school districts.

Nicholas opposes any tax increases and says the Republicans can't beat Loveless in November on a tax program.

Both have aimed barbs at Loveless for vetoing bills to provide

Paris Hears Ike To Invite DeGaulle

PARIS (AP)—The newspaper Figaro said today President Eisenhower plans to invite French Premier Charles de Gaulle to take part in the talks he will have next week with British Prime Minister Macmillan.

The paper's Washington correspondent said the object of the talks would be to coordinate American, British and French policy in view of the possibility of negotiations with Russia.

Macmillan is coming to the United States late this week to speak at De Pauw University in Greencastle, Ind., and to talk in Washington with Eisenhower next Monday and Tuesday.

Probe Clears Trujillo in Mystery Case

NEW YORK (AP)—A report financed by Gen. Rafael L. Trujillo, head of the Dominican Republic, finds no evidence linking the Caribbean dictatorship to the disappearance of Dr. Jesus de Galindez.

The report, prepared by lawyer Morris Ernst, implied that Galindez, who vanished more than two years ago, might still be alive.

Ernst suggested that the mystery might be related to Galindez's position with the Basque government-in-exile and the more than a million dollars he collected for it.

Galindez, a Spanish exile, was a Columbia University lecturer and a bitter critic of Trujillo.

Foes of the Dominican strongman have accused the Trujillo regime of kidnaping and possibly slaying Galindez. The republic's officials have repeatedly denied this charge.

The report, published Sunday, came to this major conclusion: "No accusation connecting the Dominican Republic or any of its officials with the disappearance of Galindez is supported by any evidence; and this covers all theories."

On the night of March 12, 1956, Galindez taught a regular class at Columbia and then was driven by one of his students to a subway stop.

To public knowledge, no one has ever seen him again.

Eight Walnut FFA Members At Convention

Eight members of the Walnut Chapter of Future Farmers of America will be among the 4,000 FFA boys who will gather for the organization's state convention and 35th annual judging contest in Columbus Thursday.

Official Walnut delegates to the convention, held at the Youth Center on the State Fairgrounds are Chapter President John Noecker and Marcus Dresbach, treasurer of the local group.

Friday night in one of the convention's highlight sessions, a Walnut member, Roger Schneider, will receive the State Farmer Degree.

Members of the Walnut group who will compete in the judging contest with FFA boys representing the 350 Ohio chapters, and the departments in which they will compete are:

General Livestock — John Noecker, Kelly L. Owens, and Jim Riley; sheep and wool — Jeff McCray; meat — Marcus Dresbach, Glenn LaRue and John Noecker.

Hugh Coffman, Walnut FFA advisor, will accompany the group to Columbus.

Evangelist Warns About 'Judgment'

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Evangelist Billy Graham's crusade, which began here April 27, has exceeded the half-million mark in attendance.

Counting Sunday's crowd of 12,000 in the 16,500-seat Cow Palace, 505,600 had attended the services.

Graham told his audience Sunday that "God is merciful and God loves you, but someday He will sit in judgment over you."

Judgment, he said, is as certain as death, and the Bible speaks of not just one judgment but a series of them.

"You can't buy your way into heaven," he warned. "You enter through your faith in Christ, which is a gift of God."

Non-Citizen Loses In Legion Contest

HANOVER, Mass. (AP)—Roswitha Bernhardt, 17, a junior at Hanover High School, has been denied an American Legion award because she is not a citizen.

The Legion auxiliary disqualified Miss Bernhardt because she and her parents came to this country from Germany six years ago and have not yet become citizens.

Roswitha was the choice of the school's senior class and faculty for the auxiliary's award for the most worthy girl in her class.

The auxiliary gave the award, instead, to the second choice, Jane Melanson.

Mrs. David Studley, chairman of the award committee, said: "The rules state the award must go to an American citizen."

Expressway To Start

COLUMBUS (AP)—Ground breaking ceremonies for the $60 million Cincinnati-Dayton Expressway are scheduled for 9 a. m., June 9.

Explosions Break Calm in Lebanon

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP)—Bomb explosions and sporadic rifle fire broke Beirut's three-day calm Sunday night and early today.

Tripoli, scene of most of the violent fighting in the three-week outbreak against pro-Western President Camille Chamoun, was calm.

Laurelville Pair Honored

Safe driving awards were presented to two Laurelville mail carriers last week.

George F. Bowers, who retired on April 30th after 50 years service as Route 1 carrier, received a 28-year safety award. Judso, J. Beougher, Route 2 carrier, has achieved 15 years of driving without having an accident.

The pins and certificates signed by Postmaster General Summerfield and Ned H. Dearborn, president of the National Safety Council, were presented to both drivers at the Laurelville Post Office.

Science Shrinks Piles New Way Without Surgery

Finds Healing Substance That Relieves Pain, Stops Itching as it Shrinks Hemorrhoids

New York, N. Y. (Special)—For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids, stop itching, and relieve pain—without surgery. In case after case, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction (shrinkage) took place. Most amazing of all—results were so thorough that sufferers made astonishing statements like "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne)—discovery of a world-famous research institute. Roger Schneider, Walnut, To Get State Farmer Degree

Roger Schneider, Walnut High School senior, has been named to receive the Future Farmer of America State Farmer degree.

Only 2 per cent of Ohio members are eligible to receive the State Farmer Degree. To be eligible to receive the degree a member must have earned at least $500 from his supervised farming program, and be outstanding in scholarship, leadership and FFA activities. He must also have an outstanding farming program in progress.

Roger, son of Mrs. Mary Schneider, Route 3, served as president of the Walnut FFA Chapter during the past year and recently was named "Star Chapter Farmer" of the Walnut group.

The degree will be conferred on Roger Friday during ceremonies held at the Youth Center on the Ohio State Fairgrounds. The activities will start at 7:30 p.m.

County Bond Sales Total Increasing

Ohio sales of Series E and H United States Savings Bonds for the month of April exceeded $26 million. Nationwide, sales of these two bonds reached $398 million for a gain of 7 per cent over the same month a year ago.

Judge William D. Radcliff Chairman of the Pickaway County Savings Bonds Committee said, "sales of Savings Bonds in Ohio for the first four months are just about six million dollars ahead of last year. Redemptions of Savings Bonds have decreased but in areas where employment is down bonds are being redeemed and used for mortgage payments and other necessary living expenses. Ohio bond holders have a substantial reserve and are spending wisely the bonds they started saving systematically 17 years ago."

April sales in Pickaway County totaled $63,955 for an increase over the same month a year ago.

Lucas and Montgomery Counties continue to lead the industrial counties. With more than 60 Toledo companies currently conducting bond campaigns, Lucas should widen its margin considerably. Leading the state in per cent of quota attained are Hocking, Jackson, Athens, Highland and Harrison counties.

U.S. Politicos Keep Eye on Iowa Election

DES MOINES (AP)—Tax methods and school aid were the major issues as Iowans voted in a primary election today.

Republicans and Democrats were selecting their choices to run next fall for governor, eight congressional seats and other state offices. Neither of Iowa's two Republican U. S. senators has to run for reelection this year.

Heavy balloting, spurred by an unusually large slate of congressional candidates, was forecast.

Political observers watched the election to determine whether the Democrats can hold their gains of 1956, when they elected a governor for the first time in 20 years and cracked the solid GOP congressional delegation.

Democratic Gov. Herschel Loveless has no primary opposition.

The Republican governorship contest has produced most of the fireworks as the two candidates, Dr. William G. Murray, an Iowa State College professor, and Lt. Gov. William H. Nicholas have clashed over tax philosophy.

Murray, making his first try for public office, has proposed raising the sales tax from two to three per cent and using the extra money to help pay the costs of local school districts.

Nicholas opposes any tax increases and says the Republicans can't beat Loveless in November on a tax program.

Both have aimed barbs at Loveless for vetoing bills to provide

Paris Hears Ike To Invite DeGaulle

PARIS (AP)—The newspaper Figaro said today President Eisenhower plans to invite French Premier Charles de Gaulle to take part in the talks he will have next week with British Prime Minister Macmillan.

The paper's Washington correspondent said the object of the talks would be to coordinate American, British and French policy in view of the possibility of negotiations with Russia.

Macmillan is coming to the United States late this week to speak at De Pauw University in Greencastle, Ind., and to talk in Washington with Eisenhower next Monday and Tuesday.

Girl, 11, Found After Week's Hunt

RAINY RIVER, Ont. (AP)—Carol Johnson, 11, who lived on grass and weeds during a week of wandering in dense bush near her farm home, was reported in good condition today.

Searchers found her fast asleep beside a fallen tree Saturday five miles from home.

Asked why she wandered away, Carol replied, "I was just going out to find Daddy's cattle."

She spent several freezing nights in the bush clad in a cotton blouse and jumper and told her mother she carried her shoes so she wouldn't lose them.

Bennington Graduated by Kenyon Today

Ronald Kent Bennington, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. P. Bennington, 107 Reber Ave., today was graduated with an A.B. degree from Kenyon College, Gambier.

Bennington was graduated magna cum laude with a major in economics. He was treasurer of Delta Tau Delta fraternity, captain of the varsity baseball team and played football.

At its 139th Commencement exercises today Kenyon graduated 91 men with an A.B. degree and 12 men with B.S. degrees in its Episcopal divinity school, Bexley Hall.

Commencement speaker was Moses Hadas, Jay professor of Greek at Columbia University, who spoke on "Amateur and Professional."

Israeli Cops Fire On Group of Arabs

JERUSALEM (AP)—Israeli police fired today on a group of Arabs near the Hadassah Hospital compound in the Mt. Scopus demilitarized zone. Jordan said one Jordanian was killed and two others injured.

One report said the Arabs were trying to go to Jerusalem and were attacked by five Israeli guards from the hospital.

It was in the Hadassah Hospital area that Lt. Col. George Flint of Canada, the chief U.N. mediator

Probe Clears Trujillo in Mystery Case

NEW YORK (AP)—A report financed by Gen. Rafael L. Trujillo, head of the Dominican Republic, finds no evidence linking the Caribbean dictatorship to the disappearance of Dr. Jesus de Galindez.

The report, prepared by lawyer Morris Ernst, implied that Galindez, who vanished more than two years ago, might still be alive.

Ernst suggested that the mystery might be related to Galindez's position with the Basque government-in-exile and the more than a million dollars he collected for it.

Galindez, a Spanish exile, was a Columbia University lecturer and a bitter critic of Trujillo.

Foes of the Dominican strongman have accused the Trujillo regime of kidnapping and possibly slaying Galindez. The republic's officials have repeatedly denied this charge.

The report, published Sunday, came to this major conclusion: "No accusation connecting the Dominican Republic or any of its officials with the disappearance of Galindez is supported by any evidence; and this covers all theories."

On the night of March 12, 1956, Galindez taught a regular class at Columbia and then was driven by one of his students to a subway stop.

To public knowledge, no one has ever seen him again.

Eight Walnut FFA Members At Convention

Eight members of the Walnut Chapter of Future Farmers of America will be among the 4,000 FFA boys who will gather for the organization's state convention and 35th annual judging contest in Columbus Thursday.

Official Walnut delegates to the convention, held at the Youth Center on the State Fairgrounds are Chapter President John Noecker and Marcus Dresbach, treasurer of the local group.

Friday night in one of the convention's highlight sessions, a Walnut member, Roger Schneider, will receive the State Farmer Degree. Members of the Walnut group who will compete in the judging contest with FFA boys representing the 350 Ohio chapters, and the departments in which they will compete are:

General Livestock — John Noecker, Kelly L. Owens, and Jim Riley; sheep and wool — Jeff McCray; meat — Marcus Dresbach, Glenn LaRue and John Noecker. Hugh Coffman, Walnut FFA advisor, will accompany the group to Columbus.

Evangelist Warns About 'Judgment'

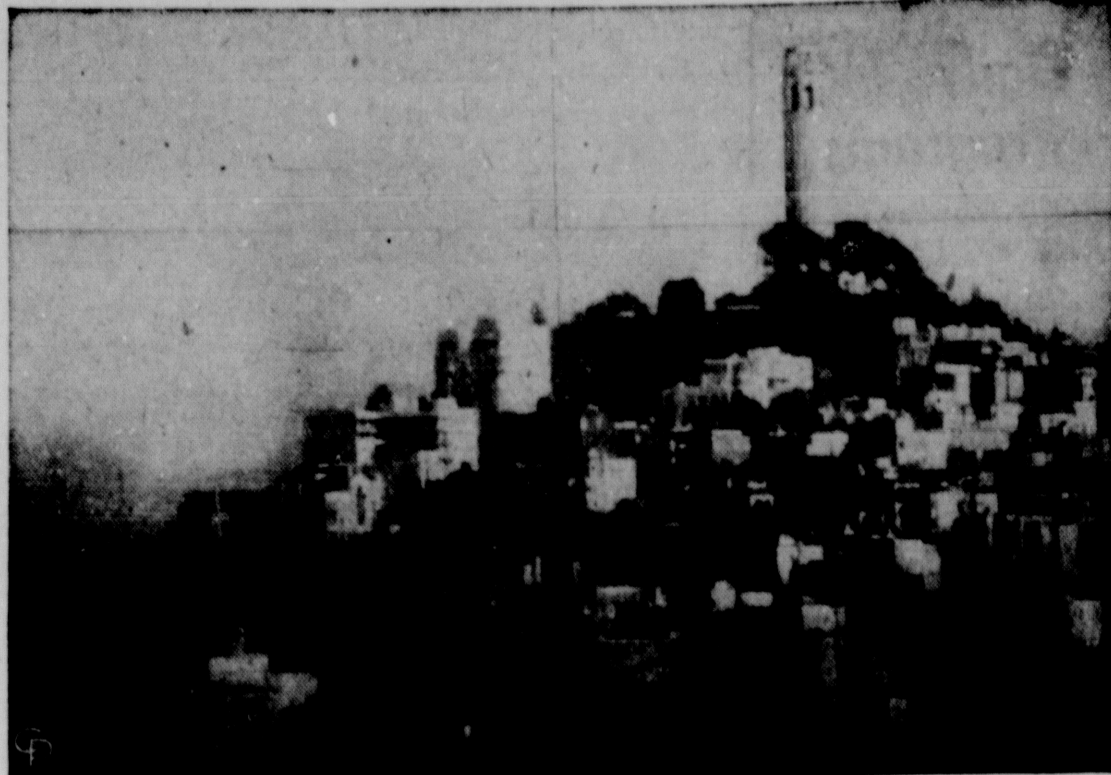

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Evangelist Billy Graham's crusade, which began here April 27, has exceeded the half-million mark in attendance.

Counting Sunday's crowd of 12,000 in the 16,500-seat Cow Palace, 505,600 had attended the services.

Graham told his audience Sunday that "God is merciful and God loves you, but someday He will sit in judgment over you."

Judgment, he said, is as certain as death, and the Bible speaks of not just one judgment but a series of them.

"You can't buy your way into heaven," he warned. "You enter through your faith in Christ, which is a gift of God."
